

YOUNG AUTO THIEVES ARE CAUGHT HERE

Because two youths in a 1954 sedan driving on Chambersburg St. early today "just didn't look right," the 17-year-old students of Stevens Trade School were in custody of authorities today after having left the school and escaped from Lancaster police Wednesday night.

Borough Policeman Clarence H. Cluck was patrolling on Chambersburg St. about 1:30 o'clock this morning when he noticed a 1954 Chevrolet with two young men in it ahead of the patrol car. He passed the sedan and then decided to stop it on Buford Ave. The vehicle pulled over to the curb near the home of Richard Lighter and Officer Cluck went to the car to ask about driver's licenses. It developed that one of the youth's had a license, but he wasn't the one driving. There was no owner's card to be found. Each time Cluck asked a question the young men looked at each other and then one of the other would answer as briefly as possible.

STARTED TO RUN

When the officer asked the youths to get in the police car to go to the police station at the engine house for further checking, they began to run across the Lighter lawn. Cluck shouted for them to halt and they obeyed.

At the police station, Cluck found state police knew nothing about the youths. He checked the license number of the car they were in, found it registered in the name of Robert F. Walton, Lancaster. He called Lancaster police.

The officers there said they had no report of a stolen car, but said they were missing two boys by the names Cluck gave them of the two here. According to Lancaster police four young men left the Stevens School there, stole a car, were apprehended by Lancaster police, but two took to their heels and escaped.

TAKEN TO LANCASTER

Cluck placed the two youths, one from Reading and the other from Pottstown R. 3, in detention quarters in the jail here, in the meantime Lancaster police called back to say the two had stolen the car, a fact they had admitted by then to Cluck.

This morning Lancaster police came here for the two boys.

While at the jail, Cluck completed a busy morning of policing by serving, with a sheriff's deputy, as "ambulance crew." A woman prisoner, Mrs. George Acevedo, Gettysburg R. D., placed in the jail Tuesday by state police on a burglary and larceny charge, was ill, and Cluck and Deputy Clair Sanders removed the woman in the borough police car to the hospital here. She later was returned to the jail.

GLENN SHUPP IS SELECTED AS NEW PRINCIPAL

D. Glenn Shupp, Thomasville R. 1, an elementary teacher in the New Oxford public schools for the last five years, was chosen Monday evening by the Lower Adams School District board as its new elementary principal for next year at a salary of $5,500.

He will succeed Charles W. Hash, who last month was advanced from the position of elementary principal to supervising principal of all Lower Adams schools following the announcement of Charles C. Taylor that he will retire at the end of this school year.

Mr. Shupp, who teaches the Sixth Grade at New Oxford, is a Millersville State College graduate in the class of 1957.

He is a graduate of Mt. Joy High School in the class of 1949, served four years in the U. S. Navy and then took his college work. Since graduation he has nearly completed postgraduate work toward his master's degree at Western Maryland College at Westminster. He served for two years as head teacher of the former Abbottstown school and for the last three years has been at New Oxford.

TWO GIVEN OATHS

Two new directors were sworn in Monday evening to fill board vacancies. Charles Schneider replaces Joseph Claybaugh, Bonneauville, on the Mt. Pleasant Twp. board and Kenneth Walker, Oxford Twp., has taken the place of the late A. P. Markel. Both men were given their oaths of office by President Glenn Haar of the Lower Adams board, who presided.

After giving preliminary approval to the $442,700 budget for the merged school district, the board indicated it will continue the 45-mil tax rate on real estate, a $10 per capita tax, the one per cent tax on property transfers and the five per cent amusement tax. The board will cut its occupation tax levy from 20 per cent to 10 per cent but will be using the revised assessed valuations produced last year by the county commissioners' office.

President Proposes $500 Million Handout To Cities With "Strangled Traffic"

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy proposed a $500 million handout to traffic-strangled cities today and dangled hopes of eventual bargain rates before the nation's air, rail and bus travelers. Kennedy bundled up his ideas in a 10,000-word transportation message and sent it off to Congress. He ignored former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's recommendation for creation of a government department of transportation.

The $500 million would be only a first installment, spread over three years, to be given to public agencies. They would put up some partially matching funds and use the combined federal-local money for "the revitalization and needed expansion of public mass transportation."

For the traveling public and for bulk freight—grain, coal ore—and farm and fishery products, Kennedy recommended that Congress

REV. TILBERG TESTIFIES ON PA. WELFARE

The Rev. Cedric W. Tilberg, son of Dr. and Mrs. Wilbur E. Tilberg, W. Lincoln Ave., urged a "central source of social service in each county," or "other appropriate local unit" at a hearing of the State and Local Welfare Commission at Harrisburg Wednesday.

Rev. Mr. Tilberg, director of the Board of Social Missions of the Central Pennsylvania Synod of the United Lutheran Church in America, said, "The present pattern of division of responsibility (for welfare services) between the Commonwealth and the counties is confusing and unrealistic." He said one family may have to deal with three or four different governmental units in relation to its problems.

The hearing on "proper division of welfare responsibilities between the states and counties" was for interested persons and welfare groups from Adams, Berks, Cumberland, Dauphin, Franklin, Fulton, Lancaster, Lebanon, Northumberland Perry and York Counties.

OTHER VIEWS GIVEN

The State and Local Welfare Commission, established by the last legislature, consists of 17 members of the state Board of Public Welfare, four members each from the House and Senate and five local public welfare officials.

Rev. Fr. William P. Bridg, director of Catholic Charities of the Harrisburg Diocese, urged that the "government not absorb those welfare functions which can and have been provided by voluntary, private efforts."

He argued the "state government should take reasonable steps to strengthen existing services, realizing that personal responsibility and initiative have been our national characteristics and explain in large measure our country's progress in human welfare." He said private agencies have greater flexibility in offering services because they are not bound by statutory requirements. He also held that public welfare responsibilities are "not being met" in rural areas.

PMS HEAD SPEAKS

Rev. Joseph M. Woods Jr., chairman of the Tri-county Welfare Council, advocated merging of the state Department of Public Welfare and state Department of Health. He also urged that local autonomy be preserved by making the county commissioners members of boards of tax-supported county welfare agencies and giving them the power to appoint the majority of the members.

Dr. Daniel H. Bee, president of the Pennsylvania Medical Society, recommended that the state buy (Continued On Page 10)

St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, has been granted a National Science Foundation summer research participation grant for college physics teachers. He will study for 10 weeks this summer at the University of Maryland's Department of Engineering in the field of nuclear chemistry.

Mrs. William W. Cohen, sister of Mrs. Della Hershey, SAE House, and mother of William F. Cowan, now of Leonardtown, and who resided for more than 30 years in the York Springs area, has been chosen as Maryland's Mother of the Year.

Selection of the Maryland Mother of the Year was made March 21 by a panel of judges appointed by the state chairman of the American Mothers Committee.

Mrs. Cohen, who will be 87 in June, is a past president of the Oxon Hill Woman's Community Club and has been an annual visitor to Adams County for more than 30 years.

Monday she will be presented with a citation and pin by Governor Tawes at Annapolis. On May 8 to 11 she will be in New York to compete in the contest for the national Mother of the Year.

The Mother of the Year contest is delaying Mrs. Cohen's plans to travel alone by bus to Chicago to visit grandchildren, then into Canada and Seattle, Wash., to attend the World's Fair and then to Texas to visit a son on a ranch there before returning to Maryland.

College Is Given Rare Pieces Of Art

Two rare pieces of Oriental art have been added to the collection at Gettysburg College. An anonymous donor has presented the college with a beautiful pair of cranes carved out of very fine spinach green jade and valued at $13,000.

The cranes are from the reign of the great Chinese Emperor K'ang Hsi, who was on the throne from 1662 to 1723 A.D. They are temple altar pieces and flanked the "god of the waters" on the altar. These cranes are a symbol of long life. They were finished about 1695.

With a two-day trip to New York City and Freedomland as the prize, the opening of the spring circulation campaign of The Gettysburg Times was announced by Circulation Manager Donald Miller to 75 Times carrier boys and their parents Tuesday evening in the Hotel Gettysburg press room.

The two-day, all expense paid tour to Freedomland and New York City will be awarded to the newspaper boys on the basis of their sales' ability during the next six weeks.

The itinerary for the New York trip calls for the prize-winning newspaper boys to leave Gettysburg at noon by bus and arrive in New York City in the late afternoon. They will check in at the Sheraton-Atlantic Hotel. After dinner there will be a subway ride to Radio City Music Hall and a stage and screen show at Radio City. After the show they will walk up Broadway to their hotel.

On the second day they will have breakfast at an Automat and take a bus to Freedomland where they will spend the morning and afternoon, leaving there for home about 4 p.m. and arriving here about 10 o'clock.

At the briefing session on Tuesday evening, films of New York City and Freedomland were shown and refreshments were served. There were also door prizes.

Also in attendance were Carl A. Baum, manager of The Gettysburg Times; George Heffran, classified advertising manager; McKnight Guise, mailroom supervisor, and Regina Asper and Martin Shenk of the circulation department.

Last year 17 newspaperboys won a two-day trip to New York City and it is expected more carriers will qualify this year with their sales records.

LOCAL RESERVE UNIT WORRIED ABOUT FUTURE IF PLANS STAND

Company D, 1st Battle Group, 313th Infantry, the local Army Reserve unit, one of the 90 units of the 10,000-man 79th Infantry Division today is concerned about its future status as a result of attempts of the U. S. Defense Department to slash the manpower of the 79th by approximately two-thirds.

Plans were announced at Washington Wednesday to reduce the 79th, the 94th of Massachusetts, the 96th of Arizona, and the 103rd of Iowa, all Army Reserve units, and the 34th of Iowa, 35th of Kansas, 43rd of Connecticut and 51st of Florida, all National Guard units, from division to brigade size. This would mean a reduction from 10,000 to about 3,000, 4,000 men.

At the same time the plan sets up a "ready-to-fight" force of six National Guard Divisions, reportedly including the 28th Division of Pennsylvania. Not indicated is how the proposal will affect the local National Guard Howitzer Battery, a nondivisional organization.

MAY BE STOPPED

Maj. Sebastian R. Hafer, E. Water St., former commanding officer of the local Army Reserve unit and now public information officer for the 79th Division, said Maj. General J. Calvin "Haps" Frank, Harrisburg, commander of the 79th Division, has been fighting the plan to reduce the division to brigade strength, and said General Frank is "optimistic" that the division will retain its strength.

Congressman James E. Van Zandt, who has been prominently identified in military affairs during his congressional career, noted that such cutbacks "had been attempted before but Congress stopped them." The proposal by the Defense Department is subject to congressional review.

Gen. Walker Says Rusk Has Sellout Link

WASHINGTON (AP)—Edwin A. Walker, former Army major general, testified today that he regards Secretary of State Dean Rusk as a link with a mysterious secret apparatus bent on a "sellout" of this country.

Walker also named Walt Whitman Rostow, a top State Department planner, as influential in a secret "control apparatus" which the ex-general said always followed "the soft line on communism."

Walker named these two in response to questions by Sen. E. L. Bartlett, D-Alaska. Bartlett was pursuing details on Walker's general charge Wednesday that shadowy forces hand in hand with communism are eating at the American way of life.

BLAMES CIVILIAN

The tall Texan, who resigned from the Army after having been admonished on charges he tried to sway the voting of his troops in the 1960 congressional elections, blamed most of his troubles on civilians.

He aimed his heaviest fire at Adam Yarmolinsky, special assistant to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Of Yarmolinsky—one of those whom Walker contends made a "scapegoat" of him—he said: "His connections with communism have certainly been close and his activities have aided communism."

EUROPEANS POURING OUT OF ALGERIA

By RODNEY ANGOVE
ORAN, Algeria (AP)—Some 250 Europeans boarded planes for France Wednesday night as French troops stood guard to OAS efforts to prevent the departure.

The French air force took over administration of civilian flights to France to break the grip of secret army agents trying to keep Algeria's European population from dwindling.

The terrorist underground had threatened retaliation to those who left without its visas. Before the air force took over most planes left with empty seats.

For the past two days, big crowds of passengers have gathered at the Oran airport shortly after dawn and waited for planes. The air force checked in their baggage and gave out boarding tickets on a first-come, first-served basis. Tickets were paid on arrival in France. Civilian crews flew the planes.

"JUST GET OUT"

Few people would talk about their reasons for leaving. Some travelers were businessmen on routine trips. Many were families obviously anxious to escape from the terrorist-plagued city, where the secret army is making one of its strongest flights to sabotage the Algerian cease-fire.

"We want to go anywhere, just to get out," one family said.

There was no sign of overt secret army efforts to prevent people from leaving. But unidentified European men circulated in the crowd and took down names of some people leaving.

Six Moslems and a European woman married to a Moslem were killed in Oran today.

Officials in Algiers said 15 persons were killed and 37 wounded in terrorist attacks in Algeria Wednesday. Of the dead, 13 were Moslems and two Europeans. The wounded included 36 Moslems and one European.

Weigel, S.J., professor of ecclesiology, Woodstock College, and John S. Brubacher, professor of higher education, University of Michigan.

The personnel deans concerned themselves with more than 20 topics of discussion during the four-day conference which ended Wednesday. The association's purpose is to discuss and study the most effective methods of aiding students in their intellectual, social, moral and personal development.

"Brazil is much larger than the United States and in all of South America there are fewer roads than in Texas," she said. "In such a large continent with such few roads and with cities so far apart, one must depend on air travel to be transported from place to place." She said, "The great difference between North and South America is that in North America everything is organized, committees are constantly arranging and things are accomplished, whereas in South America the general feeling is why change while this is so satisfactory."

Mrs. Hauser explained that the first Protestant missionary went to Brazil 103 years ago. He was from the Pine St. Presbyterian Church in Harrisburg and "anyone from Harrisburg or even Pennsylvania is welcomed with open arms here." The fastest growing evangelical church in the world is in Brazil and that is where the heart of Presbyterianism is," she stated.

She showed slides which illustrated the beauty and culture of the continent. The Presbyterians, German Lutherans, Evangelical United Brethren and Methodists have been very active in mission work in South America, she said.

12 COUNTAINS AT FARM MEET

Twelve Adams Countains attended the district meeting of the Pennsylvania Farmers' Association at Camp Hill Wednesday.

The Farm Bureau conservation reserve and cropland retirement proposals were outlined along with the Food and Agricultural Act of 1962.

The Farm Bureau Federation farm program, supported by the Pennsylvania Farmers Association, was described as "strengthening the market system and would reduce government regulations on farmers by encouraging whole farms to be taken out of production on a voluntary competitive bid basis which would allow farmers to increase per family net income."

The Farm Bureau program would also eliminate quotas and allotments, permitting farmers to grow whatever they wished on land not in the conservation reserve or cropland retirement program.

Speakers, outlining the proposed administration farm program listing marketing orders with quotas and allotments on milk, turkeys, turkey hatching eggs and feed grains, said it would "place controls on farmers like we never heard of before."

Attending the meeting from the county were John Pitzer, Horace and Lee Frey, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Livingston, Mrs. Donald Garrettson, Mrs. Russell Barbour, Nelson Kane, Wilmer Bream, Charles Lott, Stuart Lucabagh and County Agent Frank Zettie.

GAME WARDEN FINDS JOB IS NOT TOO EASY

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Bob Reynolds uses a one-word answer in reply to folks who tell him a game warden's job is a life of ease.

"Baloney," says Reynolds, whose proper title is wildlife conservation officer, a post he has held for seven years.

Reynolds has experiences to justify his answer to those who insist all a game warden does is wander through hunting and fishing area handing out tickets to persons without licenses and those who violate the legal limit.

Reynolds says he's been shot at—and hit—by skunks, run over by foxes, kicked by deer, asked to remove muskrats from basements and deer from backyards, golf courses and the city airport's runways.

MANY TROUBLES

"To get a deer out of some place," explains Reynolds, "you've usually got to lasso him. And your troubles are only beginning when you get one rope on—that just brings you and the deer closer together. I've been kicked in the stomach so hard so many times that just the sight of a deer makes me nervous."

Squirrels and beavers are troublemakers for Reynolds too. He gets calls that squirrels are eating holes in roofs, frightening women, biting children trying to feed them and keeping people awake at night when they scamper around on rooftops. Once a country club lake had to be drained before an energetic beaver wrecking trees in the area could be found and destroyed.

There are other problems Reynolds has to face: Women pester him for pheasant feathers for hats, ask him to remove snakes from flower beds, to treat sick parakeets, to get porcupines out of trees, to quiet woodpeckers, to feed ducklings they've picked up. (He uses pabulum.)

One woman contacted Reynolds to ask why fish were emerging from a manhole. Reynolds was skeptical but he went to the scene. Fish were indeed pouring from a bubbling manhole. During a rainstorm a lake in the area had overflowed, dumping the fish into a storm sewer. Then the sewer overflowed.

Reynolds loves animals—but is his an easy life? "Baloney," he says again. "Follow me around for a week and you'll see how easy it is."

CONFEDERATE AIR FORCE IS QUITE ACTIVE

By B. F. KELLUM

MERCEDES, Tex. (AP) — The South is rising again — this time right to the skies, with its own Southern flying force.

When the United States in 1945 ordered destruction of some World War II fighter planes, there arose to combat this "Yankee command" a wacky tongue-in-cheek organization calling itself The Confederate Air Force.

Operating mostly in the Rio Grande Valley, the force now numbers 10 planes and 66 men, most of them former military pilots. All are colonels "so nobody can pull rank."

The organization's leader is Col. Jethro E. Culpepper. But he doesn't exist.

Lloyd Nolan of Mercedes, one of the colonels, explains:

NO CHIEFS

"We didn't want any chiefs in this tribe but we needed some sort of leader. Culpepper is a good old Southern name and there was a Culpepper Regiment in the Civil War. So we decided on Col. Jethro E. Culpepper."

The Confederate Air Force's stated object is to have the Capitol at Washington turned around so it faces South.

Other goals: Preserve the Southern customs and traditions such as "good Southern cooking, leisurely drinking, catfishing, pocket-knife whittling, rocking-chair rocking and plain old shade-tree sitting."

Nolan, 38, a wartime pilot instructor, adds, "We're collecting World War II fighters. It's kinda a hobby . . . the guys like to keep

Prepare For Friday Concert

Besides the fun of keeping the aging planes in top shape, the principal activity of the CAF is flying at air shows.

The group takes in a transplanted Yankee once in a while, but only after he has been thoroughly screened by the OSS (Office of Southern Security).

Members go in together to purchase a plane when they can find one. "None of us can afford to invest a lot of money for a plane of no practical purpose but this way we all get to fly them," Nolan said.

The group hopes eventually to have a complete line of World War planes. They now have one F51 Mustang, two F8F Bearcats, one FLG-D Corsair, one B25 Mitchell, one FM2 Wildcat, one P40 Wildcat and three T6 Texans.

A recent addition was the Corsair, which was found on a desert where it had been exposed to the blowing sand for many years. It was soon whittled into CAF-approved shape, with a complete overhaul, a coat of paint and, of course, a Confederate flag.

TRAGEDY REVISITED

HAVANA, Ill. (AP) — Tragedy has struck Mrs. Rita Bale for the third time in eight years.

Her husband, Gene Bale, 30, and son, Lindsey, 3, drowned in the Illinois River when they fell from a boat.

Four years ago, her brother, Billie Milner, drowned in the river a mile from the spot.

Her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Milner, were killed when a semitrailer truck plowed into their home in 1953.

Supreme Court Backs Blue Laws

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —

Pennsylvania's supreme court refused today to grant a new hearing on the constitutionality of the state Blue Laws banning certain business activities on Sundays.

The high court, in a per curiam order issued by Chief Justice John C. Bell, denied a petition by Bargain City, USA, a discount chain, for reargument of its appeal which had been rejected last March 21.

Bargain City contended the state's Blue Laws, as amended in 1959, violated the constitution because it was a local, or special, regulation aimed at one specific group.

Justice Herbert B. Cohen, in a majority opinion, ruled the Sunday business ban was legal and reasonable.

The denial of the reargument petition means that this Sunday Philadelphia police officials, and authorities in other communities who have been awaiting final court action, will enforce the law.

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Machinist Frank Marchand's family included eight girls — seven daughters and a niece who came to live permanently about a year ago — when his wife had another baby. It was a girl.

Says Marchand: "A boy just isn't in the cards for us."

Says Mrs. Marchand: "Just think, I'll never have to worry any about daughters-in-law."

CREDITS MOTHER-IN-LAW

ATHOL SPRINGS, N. Y. (AP) — Peter Hosta is one man who doesn't believe in the usual mother-in-law jokes. After sweeping the three saddle-horse championships at the International horse show in Buffalo, Hosta said: "The credit for being the first exhibitor to sweep all three titles goes to my wonderful mother-in-law, Mrs. Sophia Dee. She got me interested in horses 18 years ago, after I became interested in her daughter."

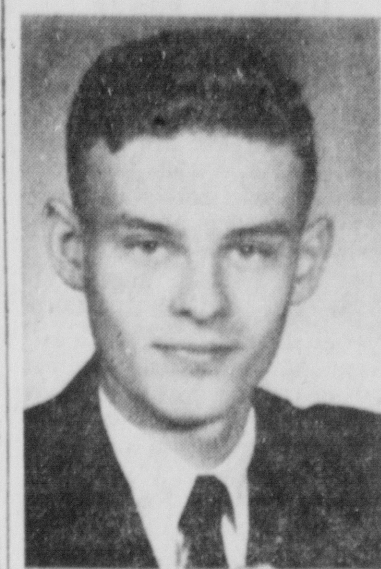

WORDS OR MUSIC FIRST?

NEW YORK (AP) — Composer Richard Rodgers doesn't know whether the words or music will come first in his show-writing collaboration next year with Alan Jay Lerner.

In partnership with the late Oscar Hammerstein II, Rodgers always did a melody after completion of lyrics.

This time, he says, "I'm completely flexible, and I'm sure Alan is too."

They were inducted into office by Edwin S. Manbeck, Camp Hill, National director of area 4.

Dress Well To Get Marriage License

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — You have to be "properly clothed" to get a marriage license here.

Probate Judge Roscoe R. Walcutt, pointing out that "marriage is a serious undertaking," issued this notice to prospective brides and grooms applying for licenses to marry:

"We do not look with favor on shorts, pedal-pushers, Bermuda shorts and the like, and appearance in such attire by either men or women will lead to the refusal to accept the application until the parties appear properly clothed."

When a recipe for muffins, the quick loaf or cake calls for a cup of mashed, ripe bananas, count on using two to three bananas.

Fair Building To Have No Walls

NEW YORK (AP) — The first building under construction for the 1964-65 World's Fair will have no walls.

The building's translucent roof will be supported by stilts. Instead of walls, there will be air curtains consisting of jets of air blown from openings in the roof to registers in the floor.

The building will house the gas industry exhibit. Officials of Gas, Inc., the company formed by the industry to plan and construct the building, say the air curtain will be strong enough to keep out inclement weather and to keep in air-conditioned air.

Another feature of the building will be a moving platform that will pick up visitors at the entrance and carry them past displays of new and projected uses of gas in homes and industry, officials say.

Faculty Gets Vacation Spot

ZALESKI, Ohio (AP) — Ohio University at Athens now has a ready-made vacation spot for faculty members.

It's a beautiful century-old home on spacious grounds at Zaleski, about 25 miles away by road from the Athens campus. The house and grounds were presented to the university by Miss Margaret Jane Fischer, who now lives in New York City.

The house, built by Miss Fischer's grandfather, one of the area's original settlers, is completely furnished down to the table linens. Ohio University is using it as a faculty vacation spot, study retreat, conference headquarters and — under faculty supervision — has let students hold weekend meetings at "Fischer House."

TWENTY YEARS AGO
Civil Service Rules Adopted:
By unanimous vote Town Council adopted a set of police civil service rules and regulations for Gettysburg Borough by approving a standard set of rules prepared by state bodies with the insertion by council of the provision that applicants for police positions must be between the ages of 21 to 45 years. A one-year residence requirement also is a part of the regulations. The regulations were adopted on recommendation of Councilman Wilbur J. Stallsmith, chairman of the local Civil Service commission.

Miscellaneous: Methodist Church Baked Ham Supper April 16th, 50 cents, dessert included. Wanted: Young Colored Chickens, Paul Reaver. Rooms Papered, $5. Harry C. Gilbert.

Rummage Sale: Gettysburg Woman's Club, Tawney Building, East Middle St., Saturday. Benefit Gettysburg Playground Fund. Women's Service Guild, Christ Lutheran Church, also contributing to this benefit sale.

Bingo Party: Friday and Saturday nights, Mrs. Smith's private dining room. Hams, grocery boxes.

Wanted: Girl or woman for general housework, no cooking, $10 a week. Good home, sleep in. Wanted: Near side work house, all evening.

Three-Week-Old Blaze: Gettysburg firemen were called back to the Oyster and Spangler fertilizer works ruins Saturday afternoon, three weeks after their first call to that plant, and poured water for almost two hours on the debris that has blazed and smoked continuously since the fire broke out at dawn on Saturday morning, March 14.

"No Army Has Ever Done So Much With So Little": General Douglas MacArthur said today in Melbourne of the defenders of Bataan: "No army has ever done so much with so little." The supreme commander, hero of Bataan's first successful defense, said, "The Bataan force went out as it would have wished — fighting to the end of its flickering, forlorn hope. Nothing became it more than its last hour of trial and agony. To the weeping mothers of its dead I only say that the sacrifice halo of Jesus of Nazareth has descended upon their sons and that God has taken them until Himself."

Easter Finery Paraded: In sharp contrast to Palm Sunday's two-foot snow, Easter Sunday sunshine sent the mercury up and saw official 82 degrees here and saw thousands of countians attend special church services in spring finery that had to go without its scheduled preview a week before. Perfect weather brought out hundreds of Easter "paraders" with the frequent appearance of military uniforms in the ranks reminding townspeople that they were observing their first wartime Easter since 1918. Many sermons from county pulpits took special note of the new significance of Easter for people in a country at war.

Serious Aphid Infestation: Rosy aphids are hatching rapidly and the largest infestation that has been in the county in many years is present, County Agent M. T. Hartman reported today. Examination of fruit buds in the county yesterday by J. O. Pepper, extension entomologist, revealed the fact that as many as twelve rosy aphids per bud were present. A special letter has been sent to the applegrowers with suggestions for a "late delayed dormant spray" advising the substitution of nicotine for oil sprays. The letter contains special information on the handling of tent caterpillars and pistol case bearers.

Today's Talk

SENSE OF POWER
None of us get very far by relying upon the pushes of others. At the same time we all need encouragement, pats upon the back by those who are interested in us, and a certain knowledge within our own selves that tells us we are going ahead, getting somewhere all the time.

But the greatest impetus to growth comes through a sense of power.

As a boy in school this fact came to me one day while playing ball. I had been looking on for a long time. One day a fellow student said to me: "Adams, why don't you play?" So I got into the game. I took up the bat I hit the ball. How, or why, I never knew, but when I did I got that thrill which comes to one upon first doing something that has never been done before.

We never know what we can do until we try ourselves out. And when we surprise ourselves that gives us a sense of power which drives us to test many new things. And by the testing process we grow, gain and go ahead.

Your making good in one job inspires you to want to make good in a better job. That's what leads the office boy to the President's job. But power must always be used, not abused.

Abused power always shrinks a man and eventually leaves him lower than where he started.

"Doing work that you see needs to be done, without being told to do it, always gives a sense of power. Initiative rules the world: A sense of power always means a sense of knowledge. And when you feel that you know, no one else is going to stop you in your climb, excepting yourself. Remember that!"

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Spring"

Just Folks

ENVY
Little fellow, fancy free,
Pal of bird and stream and tree,
Chum of dusty path and lane,
Stranger still to care and pain,
Here am I at forty-two
Vainly wishing I were you.

Chum to field and swamp and wood,
Pal to everything that's good,
Close to sun and breeze and rain,
Partner with the hill and plain,
E'en the dog that's at your heels
Shows the comradeship he feels.

When a man's at forty-two
Joys are brief and oh so few!
Pleasures swiftly come and go
In between the care and woe;
Now and then a song he sings,
But he's never pal to things.

Little fellow, fancy free,
Pal of bird and stream and tree,
Chum to everything that grows,
Stranger still to griefs and woes,
Here am I at forty-two
Sitting, wishing I were you.

SAY FRIENDS GOT PAID FOR NOT WORKING

By JACK LYNCH

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Testimony in the early days of the Knox Coal Co. tax trial shows that relatives and friends of company officials enjoyed regular paychecks without actually working for the firm.

Personal tax records put into evidence and testimony by eight relatives of two defendants and a friend of a deceased Knox office manager show they received salaries up to $11,982 yearly from the firm.

U.S. Deputy Atty. Gen. John Burke was prepared to call more of the 32 persons the government contends comprise a special payroll at the now defunct company.

Judge Frederick V. Folmer announced there will be no session Friday because he has other court business in Harrisburg. After today, the trial will be resumed on Monday.

HEAR 9 WITNESSES

Nine witnesses said Wednesday they used the Knox income for their own purposes and paid individual income taxes on it. Some said they did part time clerical work at home for the firm. Others said they did nothing more than perform personal services for Louis Fabrizio, of Yatesville, and Robert L. Dougherty Sr. of Wyoming, both former Knox presidents.

Fabrizio pleaded guilty to the evasion of $80,000 in corporate taxes allegedly owed by Knox for 1957. Dougherty, who became ill last week, is expected to stand trial later. Other defendants are August J. Lippi and Mrs. Josephine Sciandra, both of Exeter.

Lippi is president of United Mine Workers District 1 and board chairman of the First National Bank of Exeter.

SOME SERVICES

Among the services the witnesses said they performed were cooking, marketing, bill paying, chauffeuring and ash tray emptying for Fabrizio and office dusting and telephone answering for Dougherty.

Fabrizio's brother, Anthony, said he earned $11,982 in 1957 and $9,479 in 1956 by keeping watch over Louis' interests "in case something should happen to him." Fabrizio's sister, Mrs. Mary Rossi, and the wife of a nephew, Mrs. Jane Rossi, both of Yatesville, were paid $4,366 each for cooking, baking and marketing.

Vincent Zarra, Yatesville, said he drove his uncle's car and "emptied ash trays" for $7,343 in two years.

Zarra said he also worked for the firm "when they had their little accident."

IDLE SINCE 1959

Knox has been out of business since January 1959 when 12 miners were drowned by flood waters of the Susquehanna River which burst through the roof of a company mine at Port Griffith.

Mrs. Lillian Burke, Zarra's sister, said she paid bills and wrote letters for her uncle Louis in return for a 1957 salary of $1,104 from Knox.

Jacqueline Dougherty, 17, and her sister, Ellen, 18, daughters of Robert Dougherty, said they received $1,200 and $6,437 respectively during the two years for dusting their father's office behind the family home.

Mary G. Friday, the only non-relative who testified Wednesday, received $8,700. The Kingston elementary school principal said she worked on records brought to her home twice monthly by the late Joseph Fadden, office manager.

voracious competition and innovation.

Canceled last year, delayed this year, the transportation message was the last of a series Kennedy planned to offer to the present Congress in amplification of his program for the country.

Facets of it may stir up storms of discord in Congress and outside. But Kennedy nevertheless urged Congress to get started as soon as possible.

TRIAL BASIS

The recommendation for exemption from minimum rate regulation for carriers of passengers, bulk commodities and farm and fishery products, Kennedy said, would get at the most critical and controversial problems of all in the area of uneeded regulatory curbs. For airline passenger traffic, Kennedy said it might be a good idea to start on a gradual, trial basis.

As things stand now, only water carriers have the exemption with respect to bulk freight and only motor carriers and freight forwarders with respect to agricultural and fishery products.

THE LEPER

"And, behold, there came a leper and worshipped him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean."
—Matthew VIII.2

When Jesus healed the sick, He used no strange nostrums, hocus-pocus, or histrionics that might enhance His reputation. His cures rested upon simple faith.

"Believe ye that I am able to do this?" And when the suffering truly believed, as did this nameless leper, they were healed.

The Bible tells us nothing of the background of the leper whom Jesus made clean by a touch. Nothing of his life before he was struck down by leprosy—shunned by all men and ravaged by the terrible disease that slowly ate its way through his tissues into the very marrow of the bones, rotting his body piecemeal.

But there is an apocryphal account of the conversation between this man of shining faith, and Jesus.

It is said that when Jesus paused at the leper's greeting to Him outside the gateway to the city that day, the afflicted man saw in the face of the stranger the sincere kindness of a friend.

"Master, you are kind," he told Jesus. "And kindness is Truth, and Truth is God. I have found the meaning of this in the desert in a sudden shade, and in a cup of water. I have found it in the song long ago buried in my heart. But never before have I found it in a Man."

Jesus met the gaze of the sick man. Unlike others who drew away in repulsion and fear at his disfigured state, Jesus saw past the hideous mask of disease into the man's heart and soul. In the tortured face He saw trust and gladness.

"I understand thy loneliness," He answered, "for I, too, have known the rejection of men. My loneliness is sorrow that I cannot gather all into the Revelation of the Father's love, which I have known."

As Jesus spoke, the leper, exalted in his thoughts, memorized the line of His face and of His body. In a surge of faith, reinforced by love, he cried:

"Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean."
"And Jesus put forth his hand and touched him, saying, 'I will; be thou clean.'"

And the leper's affliction vanished. He was never again to suffer the anguish of the exiled and the defeated. He had glimpsed the way of Liberation.

DIVORCE TRAPS ADOPTED GIRL

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—A 15-month-old German girl—adopted by Eddie Fisher and Elizabeth Taylor only a few months ago—was caught in the ruins of their marriage today.

The child, Rome reports said, was taken from a Munich orphanage in January and given to Miss Taylor and Fisher by the German Embassy in Rome.

German adoption officials refused to confirm that the girl—said to be known as Maria—had been turned over to the stars. And they would not say what would happen to Maria now.

Adoption lawyers, however, said it probably would be up to the divorce court to decide whether Fisher or Miss Taylor would keep Maria, or whether she would be returned to German authorities. The blonde girl, Rome reports said, has a congenital dislocation of the right hip—a condition that can be corrected only by long and expensive care. The ailment was reported to have persuaded Miss Taylor and Fisher to adopt her. She arrived in Rome with a cast on her leg.

Former Unionist Starts Prison Term

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Dominick J. Alaimo, a former United Mine Workers of America committeeman, has started serving a two-year prison term for accepting bribes.

Alaimo, of Pittston, surrendered in Scranton Wednesday and was brought in handcuffs the 90 miles to the Lewisburg Penitentiary. Alaimo was sentenced in March, 1961, following conviction for taking $7,651.88 in bribes from the Knox Coal Co. he was also fined the amount of the bribes and placed on probation to take effect after his release from prison.

Appeals delayed the start of his sentence.

VIEWERS MAY SEE DEATH IN SPACE FLIGHT

CHICAGO (AP)—Television audiences must be prepared to witness death in space flight efforts, the administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration warns.

The administrator, James E. Webb, speaking Wednesday at the 40th annual convention of the National Association of Broadcasters, said men died while exploring the earth's unknown regions, and it is foolish to ignore this possibility in the far more hazardous regions of space.

"If we are to ride into space with our astronauts via television, we cannot avoid being there if tragedy strikes," he said. "Perhaps as a nation we can learn that some of the most valuable lessons of space flight come from failures."

LARGEST AUDIENCE

The NASA chief noted that by far the largest daytime audience in television's history watched Col. John H. Glenn Jr.'s space flight on Feb. 20, and he praised broadcasters for their extensive coverage.

At one time or another during Glenn's three-orbit trip the flight's progress was followed on television in nearly 44 million homes, Webb said.

"Not since the flight of Charles A. Lindbergh (in 1927) in the Spirit of St. Louis has such a feeling of participation been generated around the globe."

KENNEDY WILL VISIT BRAZIL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Brazilian President Joao Goulart has promised his government will make fair compensation for expropriated utility properties.

And, President Kennedy has accepted an invitation to visit Brazil sometime this year.

Those were the two major developments in two days of talks between the heads of state. Goulart goes on to New York today.

The Brazilian president made his pledge of fair compensation in a joint communique issued Wednesday.

There have been protests in this country over seizure recently in Brazil of a subsidiary of the American-owned International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. and the attempted expropriation of a Canadian telephone firm's subsidiary.

Although the communique did not go into these instances it declared Goulart intends to maintain conditions of security which will permit private capital to perform its vital role in Brazilian economic development.

No date was set for Kennedy's visit to Brazil, but White House press secretary Pierre Salinger announced that Mrs. Kennedy planned to accompany the President.

Brazilian sources said August has been tentatively fixed as the date.

Fire Company Has Photo Taken At Fire

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—"This would be a good time for a fire," quipped a member of the Talleyville Volunteer Fire Company, as the group lined up for its annual photograph.

Almost immediately the fire alarm sounded and the men raced to the blaze. Photographer Robert E. Pyke Jr. went along.

This year the fire company has an action picture.

SELLS LABELS FOR SUITCASES

LONDON (AP)—Long to look well traveled? Or at least have your baggage look well traveled? A novelty-shop owner has the answer.

Don't worry about such mundane matters as money or motion sickness. For 3 shillings 6 pence (40 cents) you can get 20 brightly colored labels from the best hotels all over Europe and never leave home.

Some time ago Alex Strickland, who owns a novelty shop in front of Victoria Station, noticed a man in the station carrying a bag choked with hotel stickers.

"Next to him was another man looking enviously at the baggage. The only difference between the two was that one had those luggage stickers."

"I thought, why not sell labels and help the second man keep up the globe-trotting Joneses?"

NO DIFFERENCE

"So it started somewhat as a joke. But sales are big now and we get letters from all over asking for the labels."

Strickland said a round 40 per cent of his buyers are Britishers on holiday, mostly from the Province. "Invariably they have gone to the seaside in England, haven't left the country at all."

About the Americans and Canadians who make up the balance of business, Strickland had a slightly kinder comment:

"They have made a three-day tour of 45 countries or something like that and haven't had time to get labels. So we service them."

"Who's going to know the difference anyway? Back in America the neighbors can't check on them."

Charwoman Foils Mechanical Gadget

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—A substitute cleaning woman fouled up the Board of Education's substitute teacher system.

A recording device in the board's offices receives calls from elementary school principals, asking for substitute teachers. A secretary plays back the requests when she arrives in the morning, then calls the available substitutes.

The tape was blank two mornings in a row. The cleaning woman thought the machine had been left on by mistake after the office was closed. She turned it off.

BROGLIO'S ARM TO GIVE HELP TO CARDINALS

By MIKE RATHER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ernie Broglio, plagued by arm trouble last year after winning 21 games in the 1960 baseball campaign, has pushed the St. Louis Cardinals' rising pennant stock up another couple of points with his strongest pitching performance of the exhibition season.

The 26-year-old right-hander, taking a giant step along the comeback trail, fired "em up Wednesday, flashing his 1960 form as he went seven innings and scattered six hits in the Cardinals 7-5 victory over Philadelphia at Clearwater.

Now he's got Manager Johnny Keane hoping a winter's rest has taken care of the problems and put him in shape to take his place alongside Larry Jackson, Ray Saadeck, Bob Gibson, Curt Simmons and newcomer Ray Washburn as a starter for the pitching rich Cardinals.

OTHER EFFORTS

In other fine pitching efforts, Ed Raker went the distance for Kansas City to beat Cincinnati 3-1 at Tampa, Minnesota's Jack Kralick and Dick Stigman shut out Baltimore 5-0 with a six-hitter and Pittsburgh rookies Bob Veale, Jack Lamabe and Diomedes Olivo stopped Washington 2-0 on two hits at Fort Myers.

Meanwhile, the hitters lashed out as Houston thumped the Los Angeles Angels 20-5 at El Paso and San Francisco walloped Cleveland 18-17 in 11 innings at Phoenix for an amazing total of 60 runs and 74 hits in the two games.

Elsewhere, the New York Yankees edged Detroit 2-1 at Lakeland, Milwaukee defeated Boston 9-2 at Scottsdale, the Chicago Cubs nipped the Los Angeles Dodgers 6-5 at Mesa and the New York Mets beat the Chicago White Sox 6-4 at St. Petersburg.

BARBER GOOD

Rakow checked the Reds on eight hits while batterymate Haywood Sullivan gave the A's the runs they needed with a two-run homer off Joey Jay. The Twins used five walks, a two-run double by Bob Allison and Jim Snyder's two-run single for five in the eighth off Jim Lebew after the Orioles' Steve Barber had hurled four-hit ball for seven innings.

Bill Mazeroski's homer and Larry Elliot's third hit accounted for the Pirates' runs in their victory over the Nats. Roman Mejias, 3-for-3, slammed two homers and Hal Smith, Norm Larker and pitcher Dick Giusti each connected for one in the Colts' 21-hit attack. Giusti and Dean Stone limited the Angels to eight hits.

Home runs by Willie Mays, Orlando Cepeda, Bob Perry, Manuel Mota and Jim Davenport paced the Giants' 25-hit outburst but it took a single by Matty Alou to drive in the winner in the 11th. Willie Kirkland hit two homers in the Indians 20-hit offensive. Home runs by Tom Tresh and Elston Howard off the Tigers' Phil Regan got the job done for the Yankees.

4-RUN NINTH

The Braves, leading 3-2 on Del Crandall's two-run single, put it away against the Red Sox with a six-run spree in the fifth as Lee Maye and Ed Mathews powered homers. The Cubs won it with a 4-run ninth, capped when Dodgers' rookie Nick Willhit walked in the winner with two out.

Trailing 4-3 in the sixth, the Mets beat the White Sox on Felix Mantilla's inside-the-park homer with a man aboard as Mike Hershberger and Floyd Robinson collided while chasing the ball.

W. SHOEMAKER IS TOP RIDER

By JOHN CHANDLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—It may be up to old Johnny Longden to determine just how long Willie Shoemaker, the crown prince of jockeys, occupies the throne abdicated by Eddie Arcaro.

"I plan to retire when I'm about 35, unless Longden is still riding," the 30-year old Shoemaker said today Longden is now 55, and still riding.

"He was riding before I was born, and darned if I'm going to let him outlast me," the Shoe said.

The soft-spoken Shoemaker moved into Arcaro's top-ranked riding boots when "The King" retired Tuesday.

LATCHED ON TO TWO

He immediately latched on to two of the big horses in racing, the Bohemia Stables' Kelso and George D. Widener's Jaipur. Both were the private property of Arcaro, who retired as the greatest money winning jockey of all time after more than 30 years of racing.

Shoemaker's credentials as the new No. 1 man are impressive. He rose to stardom faster than any rider in American history. Arcaro retired after riding winners worth $30,039,543. Shoemaker's horses had collected $24,466,736 through 1961. Through 1961, Shoemaker rode 4,199 winners, third behind Arcaro's 4,779 and Longden's 5,500-plus.

Shoemaker, a native of Fabens, Tex., who was raised in El Monte, Calif., rode his first winner, Shafter V, at Golden Gate Fields, Calif., April 20, 1949. Seven years later he rode his 2,500th winner, the fastest ever to hit that figure.

EXTEND JERSEY RACING SEASON

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — The extended horse racing season this year to aid New Jersey's storm-stricken shore communities will include 6 extra days at Monmouth Park and 24 at Garden State, running to Dec. 5.

The State Racing Commission met with Gov. Richard J. Hughes Wednesday and later worked out the schedule.

The state enacted a law last week adding 30 days of racing to raise about $8 million to pay for emergency repairs in shore counties hit by a storm and flood tides March 6.

Garden State Park will open its fall meeting three days early on Oct. 3, and 21 days of racing will be tacked on to the end of its season which will close Dec. 5 instead of Nov. 10. There will be racing on Mondays during the extended season. Garden State will be closed as usual on Mondays during its regular season.

Webster Resigns For Coaching Position

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Charles (Chuck) Weber, a linebacker picked up by the Washington Redskins last week on waivers from the Philadelphia Eagles, has retired from the National Football League to become head coach at nearby Abington High School—his alma mater.

The announcement of Weber's appointment was made today by Ray Coleman, Abington athletic director. Weber succeeds Marty Hubley, who resigned at the end of the 1961 season to devote full time to teaching.

Weber, former West Chester State College star, broke into professional football in 1955 with the Cleveland Browns. After one season he was traded to the St. Louis Cardinals where he spent three years.

He was traded to the Eagles in 1959 and played a key role in their drive to the NFL title in 1960. But last year he was benched during mid-season in a defensive shake-up.

Weber said he would have reported to the Redskins if this opportunity hadn't come up. He also disclosed that he "weighed a coaching offer with the Buffalo American League team before I made up my mind."

FAMED PUNTER DIES ONE DAY AFTER HE WAS NAMED TO HALL

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Patrick John O'Dea, Wisconsin's famed punter and drop kicker at the turn of the century, died Wednesday just one day after it was announced he had been elected to Football's Hall of Fame.

Ninety years old last St. Patrick's Day, March 17, O'Dea received a personal letter of commendation from President Kennedy.

Records show he could punt the length of the field, 110 yards, and drop kick accurately into the teeth of a blizzard.

But a fact known to few sports-writers was the sensation created in 1934 when O'Dea was discovered in the northern California lumbering community of Westwood after a disappearance of 17 years.

PRACTICED LAW

It was Bill Leiser, sports editor of the San Francisco Chronicle, who revealed O'Dea's new life as a lumber company accountant in Westwood under the name of Charles J. Mitchell.

O'Dea had come to San Francisco in 1906 and practiced law. He was supposed to have joined an Australian army unit passing through San Francisco in 1917. Instead, he told Leiser, he quietly went to Westwood and became an accountant for the Red River Lumber Company.

"He said he couldn't afford to go on being a famous ex-athlete," Leiser recalled. "He didn't like living in what were to him mere student days of the past."

Death at the University of California Medical Center followed a lengthy illness. Friends said that knowledge of his selection to the hall of fame had brightened his final days.

CAPTAIN TWO YEARS

O'Dea was born in Australia. He attended Melbourne University and established a reputation as a great back before coming to the United States.

After enrolling at Wisconsin, he played fullback and halfback on the Badger teams of 1896 to 1899. He was captain the last two years and was named to Walter Camp's second All America in 1898 and to the third team in 1899.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Tom Ireland, three grandchildren and ten great-grandchildren.

Sport Shorts

Manager Casey Stengel of the New York Mets is always surrounded by a circle of newsmen and radio men before every game. He talks nonstop and is a rich source of stories, doubletalk and all. His pregame appearance at the plate to give the umpires his lineup always draws a round of applause from the fans.

Something never seen during the regular season is the rigorous calisthenics all clubs go through at the start of each practice session. These vary all the way from the elaborate routines devised by Coach Ott Douglas of the Cincinnati Reds ("He must have worked in a concentration camp," his players mutter) down to a few laps running around the field and setting up exercises used by some clubs.

Cumbersome television equipment has made its appearance at every Florida ball camp. As Joe Garagiola, St. Louis master of ceremonies says, "Expression counts more nowadays than hitting."

Spring training is the time of eternal hope and goodwill. Everyone knows, but no one talks about, the fact that six months from now a couple of today's most genial managers will be on the skids, a handful of veterans will have broken down and be benched, a great mass of "phenoms" will have been sent to the minors, and almost from nowhere will have emerged stars not now figuring in the lineups.

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — Former vice president Richard M. Nixon says professional boxing should be "cleaned up or kicked out, one or the other."

Nixon, seeking the Republican gubernatorial nomination in California is clean. He said if he becomes governor he would not recommend its abolition.

Four Children Are Suffocated In Fire

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Four children suffocated Wednesday night in a fire that filled a third-floor apartment with smoke but burned only a bed.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Halloran, had left the apartment briefly when the fire broke out in the unoccupied double bed.

Killed were Barbara Jean, 8 months; Nancy Kay, 3; Gary Lynn, 2, and James Thomas, 4.

Cause of the fire was not determined.

Public Is Blamed In Paret's Death

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — "It's the people all around who are to blame—the public. That's who I blame—the public."

That's the comment of Ralph Dupas, No. 1 ranked welterweight boxer, on the death of former welter titlist Benny (Kid) Paret, who died Tuesday from injuries received in his March 24 fight with Emile Griffith.

"People are blaming the referee and the manager for not stopping the fight," Dupas said. "But you didn't hear anybody at ringside yelling to stop the fight?"

The 26-year-old veteran New Orleans fighter said public demand for sluggers has made managers turn fighters into punchers rather than boxers.

"Boxers are booed, so managers teach their kids to be aggressive, to please the TV crowd."

DELONE AGAIN BOWS BY RUN TO ROCKETS

Delone Catholic dropped its second one-run decision to Spring Grove when it bowed 2-1 Wednesday afternoon at McSherrystown.

Spring Grove, winning its third straight, rapped Jim Weaver for three hits and both of its runs in the opening inning. A hit batsmen, two stolen bases and singles by Royce Gerber, Jim Madison and George Smith, accounted for the runs.

Bill Timmins scored the Squires' run in the fourth. He was struck out by Ross Welsh but streaked to second base when the ball eluded the catcher on the third strike. He tallied on a fielder's choice.

In the sixth inning Timmins blasted a triple with two out but was left stranded as Weaver grounded out.

Delone, now 0-2-1, meets Kennard-Dale at Fawn Grove on Friday.

Charley Gembe, Bermudian Springs hurler, scattered three hits as he pitched his team to a 3-0 victory over Biglerville High School Wednesday afternoon at Biglerville. He fanned eight and walked two as the Eagles won their first game of the season.

Gary Fair tossed the first five frames for the Cannners with Bob Garretson finishing.

Gembe led the Eagles' five-hit attack with a single and triple, the only other extra base blow was a double by Sam Bricker of Bermudian.

Biglerville (0-2) will next meet Waynesboro on the Cannners' field on Monday.

Bermudian (1-2-1) was scheduled to play at Dover this afternoon.

"We Saw A Cage With Millions And Trillions Of Monkeys. I Counted 15" Said Boy At Circus

By PETER AMBRO JR.
(As told to his mother,
Henrietta Leith Ambro,
AP Staff Writer)

NEW YORK (AP) — It wasn't the first time I went to the circus, but when I was 4 or 5 I used to get tired and want to go home.

I didn't get tired Wednesday night because I'm 6 years old and big enough to stay to the end, and I'm sure glad I did.

It was the first night that the circus was in Madison Square Garden, which is so big that practically I bet this is almost the whole world. I bet only two or three people were left in New York City.

MILLION OF MONKEYS

First we went downstairs to the side show and the first thing I saw was a cute little dwarf clown about as tall as I am, who held his hand out for me to shake.

We saw a lady lion named Sonia and a daddy lion named Melvin and a cage with millions and trillions of monkeys. I counted 15.

The best in the sideshow was the lady that swallowed the swords, and when she swallowed three at one time I said "oh, man."

When the (Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey) show started on the big circus stage there was a man balancing glasses with water in it on a glass bench on a long stick and balancing it right on his nose. And he threw it up and caught it on his hand.

5 STORIES OF GLASSES

Then he put the glasses with water in them on top of about five stories of glasses and put it down on a bench and took it off again. Then he did it with about 18 stories of glasses.

A man came out then on a very large horse and I thought this was the best act so far, because I like horses. This horse danced to the music, and once he danced on his hind legs.

After that was a lady standing upside down on her head on the trapeze without holding on, and lots of other ladies swinging around on high ladders. This was kinda mysterious. There were a lot of acts like this, and my mother likes them and thinks they're very dangerous but I look around at the other people sitting near us.

The most exciting was shooting the man and lady from a great big cannon up in the air and down into a net.

But what I liked best was the clowns—they're my favorite.

A lot of clowns were dressed up like ladies and were fighting over something at a bargain.

I think clowns are real funny. No wonder they call them clowns.

NONE HURT IN MINE BLAST

BEAVER FALLS, Pa. (AP)—A strong explosion at a bituminous coal mine near this southwestern Pennsylvania community destroyed a unoccupied house, damaged three nearby automobiles and shattered windows over a wide area Wednesday night, but no serious injuries were reported.

The explosion, at the Courtney Coal Co. mine about one mile north of Hookstown on Route 168, destroyed the company's scale house and a supply house and damaged a tippie.

The mine is located near the Shippingport atomic power plant — the world's first commercial atomic installation — and the blast tore down several power lines of the Duquesne Light Co., which operates the plant.

The cause of the blast was not immediately known, but Jack Courtney, son of the mine's owner Ted Courtney, said there was a possibility of sabotage. State police said they were investigating, but would make no comment on the possible cause of the explosion.

CITES USE OF SEAT BELTS IN SAVING LIVES

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A woman drove the family car along a city street, it veered slightly, a wheel struck the curb and a door swung open. She bounced helplessly to the concrete. Cause of death: fractured skull.

On a country road, a Wisconsin traffic patrol squad car shrieked after a fugitive at speeds close to 100 miles an hour. Another car blundered out of a side road, the patrol car slanted off the road, struck a utility pole, spun through a field and back onto the highway, upside down and a total wreck.

But the patrolman inside crawled out, finished his tour of duty in another car.

Those are two moments when life and death were very close together. Only a seat belt separated them. The woman had none, and died. The officer was belted in and lived.

STATE REQUIREMENT

That summarizes the record of the past six months, since Wisconsin became the first of the 50 states to require seat belts in new automobiles.

Since the act requires belt installation only in new cars, it has given authorities an effective—if grim—field test of the safety factor worked out previously in limited surveys.

The state has 1,338,876 passenger cars registered. Some 70,000 1962 models have been sold since the law went into effect last October. During the six months ended April 1, 376 persons have died in Wisconsin traffic accidents.

But with five per cent of the state's passenger automobiles equipped with seat belts, only one of the 376 accident victims during the period, according to State Motor Vehicle Department files, was wearing a seat belt.

NO CONCLUSIONS

The record is not complete enough to draw any extravagant conclusions. The accident report form still in use by state, county and local traffic officers does not provide space for reporting whether a car is equipped with belts and whether they were in use.

But after passage of the law, various newspaper and radio groups—including the Wisconsin Associated Press Radio-TV Association and the Wisconsin Associated Press Association, an organization of AP-member newspaper editors—undertook a campaign to include such information in news stories of fatal accidents.

Here's The Answer

By ANDY LANG
The Associated Press

QUESTION: The heat in our house is in the ceilings. Very often the upper part of a room is very warm, but it is too cool in the lower part.

Even though there are exhaust fans in the kitchen and bathroom, those windows steam up. We have storm windows and doors all through the house. The heat is electric. Would it help to put in baseboard heat?

ANSWER: It would appear that you have a problem of over-insulation. When it is properly installed, insulation can save up to 30 per cent in heating costs, as well as making a home far more comfortable. But even the manufacturers of insulation admit that it is possible to over-insulate. One theory is that this occurs occasionally with electric heat, since extra heavy insulation is often recommended for that type of heating.

In this particular case, it is quite possible that the walls and ceilings are over-insulated, but that there is insufficient insulation in the floors. Is there an unheated crawl space beneath the house, a concrete slab floor without a vapor barrier or an air space between the top of the foundation wall and the wooden sill of the house? If you have one of these conditions, depending on the type of construction, it might be causing part of the trouble. In any case, baseboard-type heating would help. But our advice is to have a heating contractor determine what's wrong after a personal inspection.

PERSONAL IDENTIFICATION

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Again and again, Mrs. William Miller, clerk at the Arizona Public Service Co. office, explained to the customer that no personal checks were accepted without identification.

The man explained he had left his wallet at home and had no other identification with him. "I'm sorry," said Mrs. Miller. Whereupon the man reached into his mouth, withdrew his upper plate and showed where his name was engraved on the choppers.

OFFICIAL SANCTION

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The Administration Committee of the Arizona Senate issued the following directive:

"Senators who have no secretaries of their own may take advantage of the girls in the steno pool."

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER

SOME RAIN MUST FALL. April showers bring May flowers. But they also usher in some mighty bedraggled females. How about the one in a dreary hodge-podge of rain gear? She's a pitiful sight. Then there's the damsel who dashes between drops without any sort of protection. She looks ridiculous at the outset, wrinkled and soggy at the finish.

That gives a lovely in a smart rain outfit a real cheery aspect. And new rain-wear is as smart as any sunny-day costume. Most of it is now designed for all-weather duty in handsome materials proofed against damp and do-dinness.

Taking a cue from amphibious reptiles, the newest fabrics are printed or embossed with alligator and python patterns on silky backgrounds and plastic. Another sleek treatment of plastic is a patent leather finish. Backed with foam denim, linen and chambray now join silks, synthetics and poplins on the rainswept scene.

Just name your color or silhouette, and it's yours. In silhouettes the trend is for A-shapes, trench coats and capes, in both elegant and casual versions. Properly assembled with umbrella and hat, your choice could only become a favorite costume.

In addition to a rain costume, you may require heavy-duty gear. That's for sure if you brave downpours with a child, dog or boat. Even so, there is no need for tackiness. Function and fashion go together. For example, consider a hooded, knit pullover in oyster white. It's a charmer, yet has "shed-all" properties. Neither rain nor stain penetrate the fabric; smudges wipe off. And you look like a May flower in the heaviest shower!

KID SKIERS TOO ANXIOUS KINGFIELD, Me. (AP)—American kids are harder to teach than Europeans—but with their parents, it's just the reverse.

That's the opinion of two Austrian instructors at the Sugarloaf Mountain Ski School—Franz Schemel and Ulli Peterskorsky. They say:

"The children are too anxious to progress fast. They want to become experts overnight."

"Your American grown-ups are easier to teach... they are willing to move slowly, to work harder on the fundamentals..."

But, while the parents are willing to take time themselves, "they are too pushy when it comes to their children," the instructors claim.

OUT OF LUCK

McALESTER, Okla. (AP) — Businessman J. W. Aldridge reported he had a check with a signature he couldn't read. Neither could he remember who gave it to him.

SHERMAN, N. Y. (AP)—Sherman Central School broke the 1962 basketball season with its first victory in two years, breaking a 28-game losing streak.

Even so, it wasn't Sherman's worst stretch. Back in 1940-41, the school went 36 games without winning.

DIRKSEN AND HALLECK FACE SOME TROUBLE

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The "Ev and Charlie" leadership team is having its troubles with Republicans in Congress threatening to ride off in different directions on some major issues.

Senate Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and House Minority Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana face some challenges from backing members who ordinarily would be satisfied with their conservative course Dirksen's difficulties center around a compromise proposal to authorize President Kennedy to provide up to $100 million in financing for the United Nations.

The challenge to Halleck came from an unusual source—his own party's national chairman, Rep. William E. Miller of New York. Without consulting Halleck, Miller has tried to drum up support for a GOP substitute for the administration's plan to link medical care for the elderly to the Social Security system. Halleck thus far has given no sign he is willing to buy the substitute.

Dirksen, who usually supports

ADAMS COUNTY PUBLIC LIBRARY

Look in Lincoln Square on Saturday, April 14, for the first public display of the beautiful new bookmobile on loan to the citizens of Adams County for three years as part of a demonstration project. Volunteers will be on hand from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. to show you its features. Larger than the bookmobile which now serves the county schools, this one is cheerfully decorated in two shades of blue with a blonde wood formica interior. Whether the bookmobile comes into our permanent possession is up to us. In any case you will hear much more about this demonstration program, and what it can mean.

A number of other programs will mark the local observance of National Library week, April 8-14. The AAA window will display books on adult education with the theme, "Knowledge as the Key to the Future." Cookbooks, of which the library has a good collection, will appear in Philip Bikel's office window. Mrs. Herbert Bishop, of Biglerville, a member of the library staff, designed the displays, and their execution is in charge of Mrs. Edward Bulleit Jr., a volunteer assistant who serves the library regularly.

All school teachers, public and parochial of the county, some 500, have been invited to visit the administration on major foreign policy action, believed he had quieted most Republican opposition to Kennedy's request for authority to purchase $100-million in U.N. bonds by agreeing to a substitute worked out by Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., and others.

This would have authorized the President to loan the U.N. up to $100 million at interest terms and length of time he might fix. But when it became apparent that the President could purchase 25-year, 2 per cent interest U.N. bonds under this authority, conservative Republicans exploded.

Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, chairman of the GOP Policy Committee, was one of those who bucked. Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., a spokesman for conservatives, condemned the substitute.

This left Dirksen in the position of leading a flock going in two directions, since liberal Republicans supported the proposal.

In the House, Halleck has kept his own counsel about Miller's proposal for GOP backing of a measure by Rep. Frank Bow, R-Ohio, to help finance medical care for the elderly through private health insurance plans.

In any showdown on the issue, party members are betting that Halleck will carry a solid majority with him.

CASTRO CALLS ECUADOR CHIEF DRUNK, COWARD

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro called Ecuador's President Carlos Arosemena a drunken coward Wednesday night and predicted he might meet a worse fate than Argentine President Arturo Frondizi.

The Cuban prime minister said that Arosemena was on his way to becoming "a prisoner of the military" who, Castro said, forced Arosemena to break diplomatic relations with Cuba Tuesday.

"Any day they'll grab him and take him to an embassy," Castro said in a televised speech to the first National Congress of Young Communists.

"Any day he'll wake up in an embassy. It is possible that the military will act with him worse than with Frondizi as he has been more cowardly than Frondizi."

Argentina's military leaders ousted President Arturo Frondizi last week and imprisoned him on a naval base island off Buenos Aires.

Castro said Arosemena spent long days "completely inebriated" and that he had been known to remain intoxicated for a week. He added that photographs of the Ecuadorean president during drinking sprees exist.

There had been speculation that Castro might announce sentences for 1,179 captives of last year's Bay of Pigs invasion but he made no mention of the prisoners, whose trial ended Tuesday.

prepaid medical insurance for needy aged and recipients of welfare and public assistance. Such a program, he said, would remove those aided from "the apparent status of second class library for tea on Monday afternoon to hear about new library services.

Dr. Frank Hewitson, Clarence Keefe and Atty. H. Thomas Pyle, representing the library's board of directors, will go to Harrisburg Wednesday evening to attend a dinner, given by the Pennsylvania Library Association and the trustees section of the PLA, to honor congressional representatives for their nonpartisan support of library legislation last year.

A governor's conference will meet in Harrisburg Thursday to explore the ways in which local community can benefit from the library development program. Mr. Keefe, Mrs. Schubart and Mrs. Oren Wilson plan to attend these sessions.

citizens in regard to medical care." Dr. Bee said the state's implementation of the Kerr-Mills Act is "too limited in scope to meet the needs of the elderly medical indigent and is less than is possible under the federal statute."

Recommending that the state pay the full cost to hospitals for indigent care he said the present system of partial payments is "morally wrong," for the sick in the hospitals are forced to pay the costs of the indigent ill.

A further recommendation by Dr. Bee was that the state give its general hospitals to the communities in which they are located and not build any more. Assemblyman John R. Gailey, York, conducted the day-long hearings.

Red China Party Members Castigated By Leadership

By JOHN RODERICK

TOKYO (AP)—Red China's leadership today castigated members of the Chinese Communist party who it said have become bureaucratic, insolent and self-satisfied.

The unusually sharp denunciation may be the prelude to a new purge of the Chinese party of more than 12 million members. The purge may become whipping boys for the present chaotic condition of Chinese agriculture, which has created hunger and unrest on the mainland.

The attack was published in the official Peiping People's Daily midway through an ultra-secret meeting of the National People's Congress, the Chinese Communist rubber-stamp parliament.

FORGET REALITIES

"There are persons," the paper said, "who have become steeped in bureaucracy, exhibit feelings of insolence and self-satisfaction, forget realities, estrange themselves from the masses and do not care to discuss things with the masses."

The editorial said many new members of the party lack experience in revolutionary struggle and have not been educated in Marxism and Leninism. Both old and new party members must, during the present period, undergo re-education, it continued.

"It has become an important task for us to understand the importance of solidifying the party's political, ideological and organizational phases, strengthening the party's ideological construction," it declared.

The last big overhaul of the Chinese Communist party took place in 1958 following the failure of Mao Tse-tung's freedom of expression policy, called "let all flowers bloom, let 100 schools of thought contend." For one startling month critics of communism, and of Mao, had their public say. Then they were subjected to ruthless persecution as "rightists."

PROGRAM FAILS

In recent months the Chinese Reds have made plain that the "great leap forward"—the crash program to make China a world industrial power—has been shelved because of agriculture failures. Mao's agricultural program of rural communes, grouping millions of peasants into communized colonies, has been drastically modified because the peasants didn't produce in the communes.

As it did in the "let all flowers bloom" period, the People's Daily now says that party members should be encouraged to criticize higher ranking members.

"Say anything you know," the editorial said, "express whatever you are thinking, and if there is nothing wrong in a person's opinion, it should be taken as a lesson to the listener."

Heinz Plant Is Picketed Today

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The North Side plant of the H. J. Heinz Co. was being picketed today after some 1,800 employees struck at midnight Wednesday in a new contract dispute.

Negotiators of the firm and Local 325 of the Canning & Pickle Workers Union continued meeting for a short time after the strike went into effect before adjourning. Federal Mediator A. A. Desser said talks would resume at 1:30 a.m. today.

The old contract expired March

FIVE INJURED WHEN TRAINS MEET HEAD ON

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Five crewmen were injured but five others escaped unhurt Wednesday in a head-on collision of two freight trains that derailed five diesel locomotive units and 16 cars.

Two engineers, two firemen and a brakeman were injured when the Pennsylvania Railroad freight train slammed together on a main Chicago-New York Freight line at Harmarville, 15 miles northeast of Pittsburgh.

The crash threw wreckage across both main tracks and a side track, causing damage estimated by a railroad spokesman at $350,000.

All five of the injured were reported in satisfactory condition at Citizens General Hospital, New Kensington.

CAUSE NOT KNOWN

They are: Charles W. Miller, 64, Pittsburgh, eastbound engineer; Peter P. Peretic, 43, Pittsburgh, eastbound fireman; Jesse F. McCune, 45, Conway, Pa., westbound engineer; Frank P. Stiblow, 43, Freedom, Pa., R. 1, westbound fireman; and Pete Solobay, 37, Glenshaw, Pa., a brakeman.

31 and the workers voted to strike. They allowed a few days of grace so perishable foods at the plant could be processed. The plant produces canned foods.

Heinz said Wednesday the union demands were out of line with the wage costs of competitors. The demands would cost an estimated 35 cents an hour more per worker, the firm said.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

Urges Pari-mutuel Betting, No Radar, In His Campaign

HARRISBURG (AP)—Charles J. Schmitt, independent candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, has added a new plank to his campaign platform—repeal of the state's controversial radar law.

"Claims that radar has cut down accidents on Pennsylvania highways are misleading," the unemployed real-estate salesman from Erie declared Wednesday in a statement.

"In reality, the accident rate has gone down because of increased costs of operating cars, including higher taxes on gasoline, higher registration fees for automobiles."

HORSE RACING

Radar became a real means for prosecuting highway speeders in Pennsylvania last year. It was one of the major legislative programs of the Lawrence Administration in 1961.

Radar is the second controversial issue on which Schmitt has based his campaign. He also advocates legalized pari-mutuel horse racing in Pennsylvania.

After pledging to have the radar law repealed if elected governor, Schmitt criticized the state's physical re-examination for "forcing many older drivers off the road because of minor physical difficulties."

He also attacked Democratic plans to use Gov. Lawrence's son, Gerald, as chauffeur for Richardson Dilworth, the organization-backed candidate for governor.

Young Lawrence filled this role for his father during the 1958 campaign.

"NAUSEATING"

"This is particularly nauseating to me," Schmitt said, "because of the fact that I must continually scratch for gas money to carry on my campaign and to take part of it from my $40 a week unemployment compensation check."

The labor and industry department said Schmitt was receiving unemployment compensation on the basis of a $50-a-week job at a toy factory in his home county of Erie last year. It added that he just exhausted the 40 weeks of state benefits.

When he filed as a candidate, Schmitt listed his occupation as a real estate salesman. However, the State Real Estate Commission said he did not renew his license when it expired Feb. 28.

Barons Win First AHL Playoff Tilt

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Cleveland Barons, unimpressed by Springfield's awesome credentials, have gained a one-up margin in their American Hockey League semifinal series for the Calder Cup.

And they did it the hard way, too, beating the Indians at home—where Springfield is virtually unbeatable—in the first of their best-of-seven series.

Wayne Larkin got the winner at 10:16 of the third overtime in the Barons 4-3 conquest of the long-time kipping Indians Wednesday night.

The second game will be played in Springfield Saturday. Buffalo defeated Rochester 3-2 in a quarterfinal match for a 1-0 lead in their best-of-three set. Hershey, which holds a 1-0 lead in its best-of-three quarterfinal with Providence, visits the Reds home ice in the only action tonight.

Chico Maki got what proved to be the winner for Buffalo when his goal with a minute to go in the middle period gave the Bisons a 3-1 lead over Rochester. Alex Faulkner got one back for the losers in the last period.

Brian Cullen and Brian Smith got the earlier Buffalo goals, and Gerry Eham the other marker for Rochester.

MOVIES DON'T FIT IN HOUR LONG TV SHOW

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Repeated attempts to convert popular motion pictures into one-hour television programs have usually fizzled because of too much plot in too little time, insists actor James Mason.

"The trouble is the abbreviation," the British performer-producer-director explained. "They get so busy telling the story that they have no time left for scenes—and good scenes are what make an interesting show."

Mason, who recently finished playing the male lead in the movie adaptation of the shocker novel, "Lolita," will be playing Maxim de Winter Sunday night in a live adaptation of Daphne du Maurier's famous "Rebecca."

The play is one of NBC's "Theater '62" series based on old hit movies—which so far has proved one of the major dramatic disappointments of the season.

PROBLEMS LICKED

Mason—with that optimism that invariably infects performers before a show or program—believes that the problems of abbreviation have been licked.

"Rebecca" has such good scenes," he said thoughtfully. "And Maxim de Winter is the woman novelist's eternal hero—all those unhappy, brooding heroes are descended from 'Jane Eyre.'"

FCC chairman Newton Minow's criticism of radio "in too many communities" as a "clamorous Casbah of pitchmen and commercials that plead, bleat, pressure, whistle, groan and shout" may

People Soon Will Live Much Longer

PITTSBURGH (AP)—How old will you be when you die? Sixty? Seventy? Eighty?

Nobody knows, of course, how long he will live, but according to one physician the life expectancy in the United States may soon be 100 years.

Dr. Edward L. Bortz, a specialist in geriatrics or the study of the aging, said Wednesday that medical advances may soon give man a life expectancy of 100.

He said that within the next 10 or 15 years, medical science may bring under control the major ailments affecting the aged, such as heart and blood vessel disease, cancer, arthritis and rheumatism, and mental illness.

Bortz told a regional convention of the National Red Teachers Association and the American Association of Retired Persons that this will give man 30 years for learning, 30 for a first career and raising a family, 30 for a second career and 10 for writing memoirs.

"Don't get in a rut," he advised. "The only difference between a rut and a grave is the depth."

result in a welcome revolution in programming, much the way his "vast wasteland" speech improved some TV programming practices last year. The fact remains, however, that radio has continuously done a fine job in news coverage.

Exactly what caused the trains to meet was not immediately determined. The PRR spokesman said an investigation is under way.

He said one of the trains was headed east from Conway, Pa., to Baltimore with three diesel units and 97 cars.

Three other diesel units were pulling 48 cars west on a trip from Harrisburg, Pa., to Conway. Motel operator Leonard Kruth saw the crash.

"It was really something to see," he told the Associated Press. Kruth and other persons hurried to the wreckage and heard cries of "help! help!" from crewmen inside the smashed diesels. They helped remove the injured.

Traffic was rerouted as railroad crews went to work, clearing the wreckage and repairing torn-up track.

The railroad spokesman described the stretch of track as high-speed, but he said the trains apparently were not travelling real fast. He said the exact speeds cannot be determined until speed-recording tapes in the locomotives are studied.

DENY REAPING BIG PROFITS

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP)—Officials of the Douglas Aircraft Co. have bitterly denied they reaped excessive profits from the Army on Nike missile contracts.

Donald W. Douglas Jr., the company's president, accused aides of a Senate Investigations subcommittee Wednesday of manipulating figures to picture profits as too high.

"The numbers are accurate, but nobody puts their numbers together that way," Douglas said in challenging documents prepared by the subcommittee staff. These purported to show that Douglas Aircraft's profits on 17 Nike contracts in 1952-61 totaled $45.56 million but that subcontractors did most of the work.

44.3 PER CENT

Robert E. Dunne, staff investigator, said this was equivalent to a 44.3 per cent profit on the portions of the contracts performed by Douglas at its own plants.

Dunne said the profits, figures against the work done by Douglas and its subcontractors combined, would be 7.6 per cent on the 17 contracts totaling $592.74 million for producing various components of the Nike missile system.

Douglas, armed with stacks of charts and flanked at the witness table by a half dozen subordinates, called this "arithmetical manipulation which borders on economic frivolity . . . a gross distortion."

He said the contracts actually totaled $939 million, "and our profit from those sales before federal income taxes approximated $29.8 million, a rate of less than 3.2 per cent of sales." Income taxes took more than half of that profit, he added.

URGES AID TO NEEDY PUPILS

STONEBORO, Pa. (AP)—Gubernatorial candidate J. Collins McSparran, speaking at the Lakeview Joint School in the Mercer County community, suggested Wednesday night the establishment of a loan program to help capable but poor students finance their college education.

McSparran, seeking the Republican nomination for governor, said the fund could be set up either with state funds or by private contributions. Other states, such as New York, have set up such funds with great success, he said.

Earlier, McSparran told the Harmony Dairymen's Association in Butler that the Pennsylvania State Milk Control Commission should be changed to eliminate what he termed political appointments. He added that it was ridiculous for the commission to become involved in the question of milk packaging in the recent controversy over gallon sales in "twin-pack" paper cartons in the Pittsburgh area.

McSparran continues his campaign tour with meetings and rallies in Titusville, Meadville, and Saegertown Thursday and will visit Erie County Friday and Saturday.

Remember three things to help reduce tomato troubles in your garden: Rotation, sanitation and fungicide.

Don't plant tomatoes (or potatoes) in the same plot, or one immediately adjacent, more often than once every three or four years. SNAP BEANS

If your snap beans aren't doing well, the reason may be inadequate water. Experimenters at the New York State Agricultural Experiment Station report that snap beans, which grow rapidly, require a good supply of soil moisture throughout the sensitive crop's short life, to insure good growth and development. A shortage of available soil water for only a few days can drastically reduce yield and quality.

For peak-growth of snap beans, available soil moisture should not drop below 50 per cent in the root zone. This means that in average soil the snap beans will start to suffer when one inch of water has been removed.

To give you an idea of water loss during a hot, dry, windy day in the period between bean blossoming and harvest, the crop will use nearly one-quarter of an inch of water. Under these circumstances, available water in the surface of average soil will be depleted to the critical 50 per cent level in only five days.

TREE PLANTING

Camp Fire Girls of America have planted more than two million trees throughout the country in a two-and-a-half-year, 50th anniversary program. Before planting, the girls made a census of trees on nearly one million acres to determine where they were needed.

The girls established arboreta, reforested burned areas and landscaped grounds of public buildings, hospitals and churches.

You may buy ready-mixed potting soils in your garden store. But if you prefer to mix your own, a formula found satisfactory for a large range of house plants is three parts garden soil, one part well-rotted manure, two parts leaf mold or peat moss, one part perlite or sand, one-quarter part wood charcoal flakes.

You may determine whether your landscape plants were damaged by the severe winter cold by browned foliage or fewer buds on trees and shrubs in the spring. Don't prune shrubs or trees until new green growth shows. In that way, you can spot damaged branches.

Children Are Objecting To Parents' Doing "Twist"

By VIVIAN BROWN
The Associated Press

Is the Twist a dignified dance? The pros and cons of that question rage on and on.

"My parents didn't approve of rock 'n' roll," writes an 18-year-old high school senior, "but now they dance the twist at every opportunity. Our own group disassociated itself from the Twist, and now to have our parents twisting around is a little embarrassing."

"Why is a dance like that okay for parents when the rock 'n' roll isn't permissible for their daughters?"

Many people consider rock 'n' roll undignified. Parents don't relish the idea of their young daughters tossed around on a dance floor creating a spectacle. That also goes for the Twist. Parents dance it, no doubt, because they feel they have the situation well in hand.

ONE EXCEPTION

A 17-year-old takes exception to the school skirt length ban in this letter:

"Our school principal threatens to send home from school any girl who wears a short skirt after the first warning. Everyone knows the fashion is knee length skirts. If he's old-fashioned, why doesn't he learn what it is all about? A group has been thinking of picketing the school, but my mother says it wouldn't do any good. Have you ever heard of students picketing a school?"

It does seem like a drastic way to make a point about fashion, and it would antagonize school authorities. I think you should try to organize a calm way of getting your point across, such as getting students, parents and school authorities together and let everybody air his views. One school principal recently gave as his reason for the skirt length ban "that a knee-length skirt is no longer a knee-length skirt when a girl sits down."

SHARE MOTHER'S CLOTHES

Here's where mom has really turned the tables on daughter:

"I'm probably one of the few girls in the world who shares clothes with her mother and vice versa. We are the same size. I don't really object to it as she lets me wear her fur jacket and her jewelry when I want to dress up especially well. But don't you think I should have a wardrobe to call my own? Mother even borrows my last pair of stockings, and when I want to go out, I'm stranded."

You should be able to straighten out the situation so that your mother will not take your last pair of stockings, but if you are going to borrow your mother's clothes, it should be a two-way wardrobe exchange. You should be willing to lend your clothes without quibbling. The only other way would be to call a halt completely and then you would, of course, deprive yourself of certain advantages.

HOPE CHEST FEVER

Are young men suspicious of hope chests? Do they think of themselves as bait when they know a girl keeps one? A 16-year-old girl writes:

"Do you think it is a good idea to let a boy know that you have a hope chest? My girl friend's mother says it is better to keep it a secret. My mother says that it shouldn't make any difference to the boy, and he shouldn't get the idea it has any connection with him. I'm all for telling the steady boy I date about the wonderful sterling flatware my grandparents gave me for my hope chest. Please help settle this question."

The words "hope chest" are frightening to some boys. Couldn't you tell him about the silver without saying you are putting it in your hope chest? The words sound too immediate for comfort, especially to a high school boy.

Brad Dillman Is Given A Divorce

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Actor Brad Dillman, who played the title role in the film "St. Francis of Assisi," was divorced Wednesday. His wife declared he "wanted to be a bachelor and never should have gotten married."

Mrs. Frieda Dillman, 31, testified in Superior Court her husband "ignored me most of the time and didn't talk about anything."

Dillman, 31, did not contest the action. He was ordered to pay $750 alimony per month and $250 support monthly for the couple's two children, Jeffrey, 4, and Pamela, 2.

Couples To Have Fancier Licenses

CHICAGO (AP)—With a pretty bride and a handsome groom, it's a shame to have a plain marriage license, says Edward J. Barrett, Cook County clerk.

"The marriage licenses we've been issuing over the years aren't fancy enough," said Barrett.

"They look too official," Barrett, whose office issued 42,715 marriage licenses last year, said he's looking into redesigning the licenses and having them filled out on special typewriters using elaborate type faces. Colored ink in the typewriter ribbons, also would help, he added.

BLOODIEST BATTLE TO DATE

Losses at Shiloh Stun Both Sides

Hear 3,500 Die;
Gen. Johnston
A Casualty

GEN. JOHNSTON
Killed in Battle

PITTSBURG LANDING, Tenn., April 7—The bloodiest battle to date in the Civil War ended here today with an estimated 3,500 dead and 17,000 wounded.

Among the dead was Gen. Albert Sidney Johnston of the Confederate Army, commander of the rebel forces engaged. He was opposed by Maj. Gen. Ulysses S. Grant of the North, who had scored a notable number of successes since pulling his troops out of Illinois to invade Missouri and Tennessee.

Focal point of the fierce fighting was Shiloh Church, a modest house of worship fitted snugly into the wooded fields that became scene of the carnage.

THE ACTION began yesterday when Johnston, commanding some 40,000 troops, hurled them against Grant's 42,000 soldiers encamped at this Tennessee River town.

Both forces were made up of many units never before engaged in battle.

At dawn yesterday, Missouri division patrols stumbled upon spearhead units of Johnston's force, advancing in strength on the Union division commanded by Grant and Maj. Gen. William Tecumseh Sherman.

The Missouri troops, led by Brig. Gen. Benjamin M. Prentiss, regrouped at a spot dubbed the "Hornet's Nest" and held off the attackers for a while.

But other outfits under Johnston poured into the lines commanded by Sherman and Brig. Gen. John A. McClernand, inflicting heavy casualties.

One of the first Union officers to fall was Brig. Gen. W. H. L. Wallace, mortally wounded in the Hornet's Nest assault.

Gen. Johnston, one of the South's strongest commanders, was shot in the hip during today's fighting. He died within an hour.

VICTORY went clearly to the North only after the arrival of some 20,000 troops commanded by Maj. Gen. Don Carlos Buell and another 5,000-man division led by Maj. Gen. Lew Wallace of Indiana.

Gen. P. G. T. Beauregard, Southern hero of Ft. Sumter, who assumed command after Johnston's death, regrouped his units for a frontal attack, but the offensive never came off.

Grant, with the fresh Buell and Wallace troops in the fore, regained their original position early today and drove the Confederates from the field surrounding Shiloh.

Estimates are that 1,700 Union soldiers were killed, with 8,500 wounded and some 2,700 missing. Southern losses were placed at 1,800 killed, 8,000 wounded and 1,000 missing.

"Submarine" Boat Project Progressing

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 8—Construction is well under way here of a boat which, its designers say, will be capable of staying under water for at least six hours.

The craft will be the first submarine vessel to join the Union fleet. It has been under development for three years.

WET WEATHER, STORMS HEAD ACROSS NATION

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Showers and thunderstorms dampened sections from the southern and south central Plains into the central part of the nation today and headed eastward.

The showery belt extended across the middle Mississippi Valley and the southwestern Great Lakes region. Thunderstorms rumbled across areas in central Texas and showers spread into the lower Mississippi Valley. Heaviest rains were in Texas, with one-inch falls in a six-hour period reported in Amarillo, Pailacios and Austin.

RAIN TO SPREAD

The rain was expected to extend over the southern and central Midwest and the Ohio Valley, with showers and occasional thunderstorms from the eastern half of the southern Plains to the southern Appalachians.

Mostly fair weather prevailed in areas east of the Appalachians, the northern Plains, the southern Plateau and the central and southern Pacific Coast. Skies were cloudy in the Rockies and the central Plateau while light rain sprinkled sections of the North Pacific Coast and the northern Plateau.

Coolest weather, a little below freezing, was reported in the North Atlantic states. Temperatures in the 30s and 40s prevailed in most sections, with 50s and 60s in Southern areas and 70s in southern Florida and the southern Plateau region.

Indonesians Strafe Okinawa Tuna Boat

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—The Indonesian government today admitted strafing an Okinawa tuna boat but claimed it violated Indonesian territorial waters and failed to give proper identification.

A report received in Okinawa said one of the four crewmen wounded in the strafing Tuesday had died.

The Japanese Maritime Safety Board had reported the strafing of another ship off Morotai Tuesday night and said the ship perhaps was American. But today the agency said the report was a mistake resulting from misinterpretation of a distress signal from the Okinawa boat.

ESTHER G. DAVIS AND FAMILY

In Memoriam D

BITTINGER: In loving memory of our dear father and husband, Herman E. Bittinger, who passed away April 5, 1961.

One year has passed since that sad day
The one we loved was called away.
God took him home, it was His will.

Sadly Missed by His Wife and Daughter

FARRER: In loving memory of my dear father, who passed away 19 years ago, February 20, 1943. Watch over us from above, dear father.

Protect us here below,
Guide us always in the path
You would want us to go.
Take our hands when days are dark.

Comfort us when we cry,
Walk beside us in this weary life
Until the day we die.
And my dear mother, who passed away 13 years ago today, April 5, 1949.

Sleep on dear, good mother,
It has been long years
Since you left our hearts.
Filled with sadness and tears.

Yours was a heart that was blissful and gay,
Scattering sunshine all along the way.

You know how I loved you, and yes, love you yet,
Though God took you from me,
I cannot forget.

LOVING DAUGHTER

LOCAL RESERVE

wish to join the active reserve to do so quickly — before the Army closes enlistments in the 79th Infantry Division unit. How the new defense plan will affect recruiting was not known today.

The 15-year-old company now had 102 enlisted men and five officers engaged in training in its new $125,000 training center located along the Fairfield Rd. about a quarter mile west of here.

Meetin each Tuesday evening from 7:30 to 10 o'clock, the company invites any men between age of 18 and 25 to visit it at the center on any drill night. They may call at the center Wednesdays from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. when representatives of the Senior Unit Advisor's office are there.

ACTIVATED IN 1947

Activated March 14, 1947, as Co. E, 2nd Battalion, 315th Infantry, the unit began life as a cadre company meeting monthly at Glatfelter Hall on the Gettysburg College campus. The five officers and 15 men, all veterans of World War II, and headed by Capt. Donald Sheely, served without pay.

About February, 1948, the company moved to the third floor of the American Legion Home on Baltimore St. As the Army Reserve program developed, the company became one of those for which pay was authorized, on a basis of 24 drills a year. It still remained a cadre company, made up only of officers and noncommissioned officers with the remaining members of the company to be added in case of emergency.

With the enlargement of the 79th Division from two to three regiments about 1950, the unit became Company A, 313th Infantry, with Capt. Sebastian Hafer as commander.

IN NEW QUARTERS

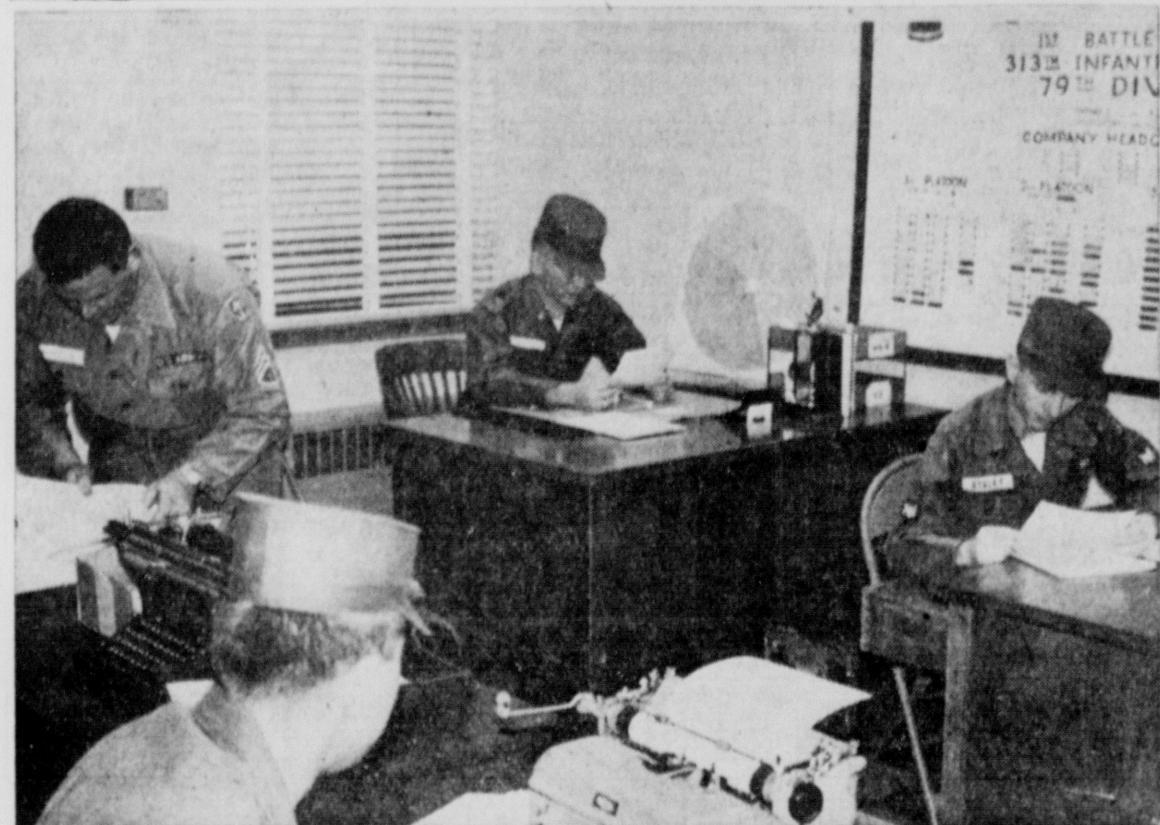

Later the company moved to a training center on Queen St. taking over an abandoned sewing factory, and with further reorganization of the Army Reserve began enlisting toward full strength and its designation was changed to Co. D, 313th Infantry.

The new training center on the Fairfield Rd., the first quarters specially built for the Reserve unit, contains an orderly room, a day room, a supply room, an arms room, two classrooms separated by a folding partition which can be opened to turn the two classrooms into one large room, a kitchen, a senior unit advisor's office, and a vehicle maintenance building located to the rear of the center.

Among personnel of the unit at the present time are Capt. Robert Black, the company commander, who recently returned from additional training by the Army; 1st Lt. Belford Thompson, executive officer; 1st Lt. Richard Darr, weapons platoon leader; 1st Lt. John D. Bream, training officer; M/Sgt. Harry Strevig, first sergeant; M/Sgt. James Sneeringer, first platoon sergeant; M/Sgt. John Lawver, second platoon sergeant, and M/Sgt. Richard Yingling, weapons platoon sergeant.

The company has won many "best company" awards for training accomplishments at its annual two-week summer encampment. To improve its training and leadership, the company holds noncommissioned officer schools once a month, in addition to the regular drills.

Lt. John D. Bream (top), training officer for Co. D, First Battle Group, 313th Infantry, 79th Division, is shown discussing lesson plans for training with Sgt. George Costella and Sgt. Gareth Biser, instructors. In the lower photo are four members of the unit, left to right, Sgt. Glenn Hartzel, training section typist; Sgt. Gerald Brough, training sergeant; Lt. Belford Thompson, executive officer, and Specialist George Staley, clerk.

Jerry Wald Comes Out Best Twice

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Film producer Jerry Wald emerged in excellent condition from surgery—and from a $3-million slander suit.

Wald, 49, underwent a lower spinal operation at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital Wednesday and is expected to remain there a week or 10 days.

He discovered after coming out of the operating room that a Superior Court jury had returned a verdict in his favor in a slander action brought by Jaik Rosenstein, publisher of the magazine Hollywood Close-Up.

Rosenstein said Wald made slanderous remarks about him in 1959. Wald said Rosenstein told him "I'm going to blast you" after Wald stopped advertising in Rosenstein's magazine.

On The House

By ANDY LANG
The Associated Press

If your home does not have the "outdoor living" atmosphere you have been hearing so much about, you can achieve it with the addition of a sundeck. It may be built adjacent to the house or in conjunction with the carport or garage; on the ground or on stilts; simple or elaborate as a family's needs and resources dictate. And where outdoor living already is a part of the home's over-all architectural scheme, it can be incorporated, such as a sundeck adjoining a swimming pool.

Solid lumber has many virtues as a good material for a sundeck. It can be used for the decking itself, for the supports, for wind screens and for the roof, if required. While some persons prefer that the sundeck be just that, completely exposed to the sun at all times, others want a partial roof where they can take advantage of shade.

3 KEY FACTORS

The placement of the sundeck and the incorporation of protective screens and the like depend upon three factors: Existing landscaping, property lines and the direction of the sun's rays and prevailing winds.

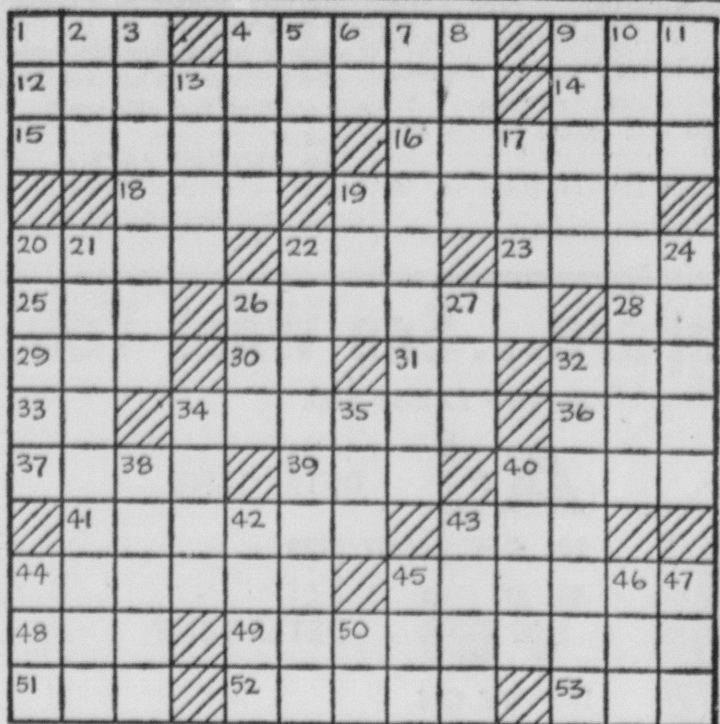

Perhaps the windward side of the deck should be sheltered. Protection can be achieved via a distinctive lumber screen along the windward side of the deck. By using a lattice-work design, vertical or horizontal louvers, or a basket weave for the screen, you can get protection without totally cutting off the supply of light and air.

The contour of the land often determines whether the sundeck should be raised off the ground. On sloping terrain, a raised sundeck is an easy way of providing a flat surface where none naturally exists. If the sundeck is not to be raised, however, the Western Pine Association suggests that the wood be thoroughly treated with a "penta" (pentachlorophenol) preservative wherever it is to come into direct contact with the ground.

DECORATIVE VIEW

From a decorative point of view, there are a variety of decking installations which may be chosen for a sundeck. Decking may be installed flat, on end, in parallel lines, diagonally, in a herringbone pattern or in a parquet-like design. The latter may be created by using squares of 2 by 4s alternating in checker-board fashion over a foundation of 2 by 4 strips. Further variety may be achieved by building a series of decks on different levels, each devoted to a particular activity.

Brand-new Panels And Doors Improve Home

Today's accent on casual living has inspired the modern housewife to seek easy-to-clean-and-maintain home building products which will make her day's work easier and shorter.

Housewives agree that the most difficult and time-consuming phase of home-cleaning is caring for walls and doors. Kitchen walls are especially difficult to maintain, and usually require repainting or refinishing every two years.

After extensive research and product testing, a leading wood products manufacturer has now developed a new line of prefinished plywood paneling and matching flush doors with the warmth and beauty of expensive hand-rubbed wood.

Tests by a leading independent laboratory prove that their beautiful grain finishes will not scuff, fade or stain and can be washed or cleaned with any common detergent.

The name "Lifeclad" has been given this product by Simpson

Timber Company, the manufacturer, because the paneling and doors are protected by a tough vinyl surface that stays beautiful for the life of the home.

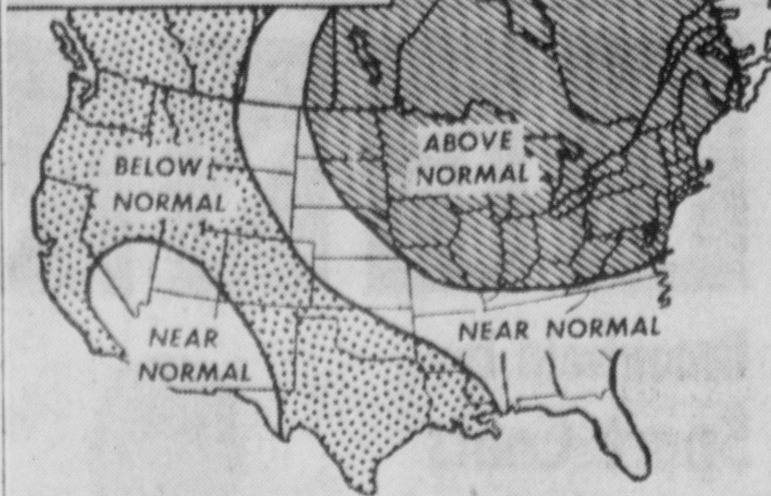

Modern decorative effects are easily achieved with this new product. For example, a kitchen can be completely paneled with this stain-resistant paneling, and doors — to make maintenance even simpler — may be obtained with matching or contrasting Lifeclad finishes.

Also, cabinets and other built-ins can be constructed of the same economical, washable plywood so that the entire kitchen becomes a pleasure to keep sparkling rather than a dreaded chore. A quick wipe with a dampened sponge or cloth whisks dust and grime away. The housewife has more time for less despairing household chores.

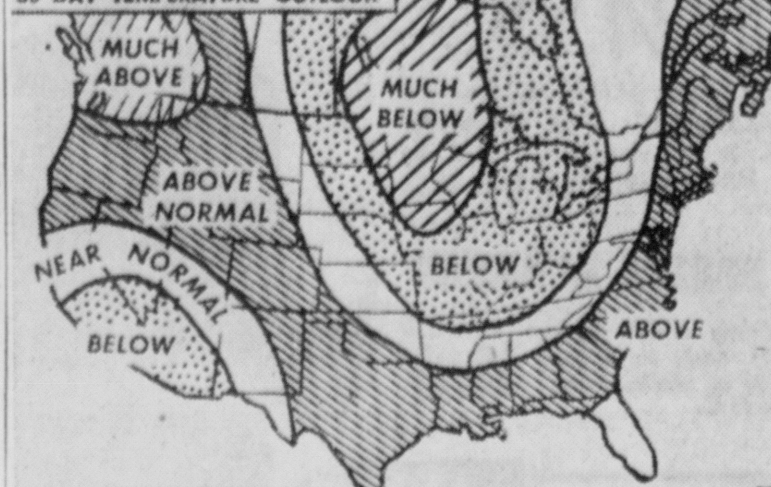

Tests prove the tough finishes are impervious to stains from all ordinary household compounds. Dirty finger marks on walls and doors, once the scourge of many housewives, are easily wiped clean.

Lifeclad plywood paneling and matching flush doors are available in five grained finishes: Oriental Pecan, Arabian Sandalwood, Temple Walnut, Sable Walnut, and Vermont Cherry. Paneling also is available in three natural woods: Casual California Redwood, Cascade Hemlock and Mountain Larch.

The paneling is manufactured in standard 4' by 8' and 4' by 10' by 3/4" panels with or without random plank V-grooves; 3/4" and other thicknesses are available for cabinet work and special construction.

The panels can either be installed by the home handyman with either glue or nails. Matching flush doors for the five grained finishes are available in the Simplex as well as standard sizes.

For additional information on Lifeclad paneling and doors consult your local building dealer, or write: Simpson Timber Company, 20431, Washington Building, Seattle 1, Washington.

TEACHES DOG SIGN MANNERS

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Henri Toulouse Lautrec de Fried Bread is a sophisticated Frenchman who understands Indian sign language.

Henri, you see, is a dog — a French poodle. He learned sign language from his owner, Brummett Echohawk, who's a Pawnee Indian.

Echohawk, 39, got the idea from a television program. TV dogs get silent signals from their trainers. So he set out to train Henri — or Fried Bread as Echohawk calls him — and just naturally used Indian signs for his signals.

TO PROVIDE QUIET

The purpose of the training is to provide quiet while Echohawk, an artist, works.

At Echohawk's signaled command, Fried Bread will sit, dance, get his poodle sweater and — if asked — speak. When Echohawk signals displeasure, with a clenched fist held to the forehead, Fried Bread hangs his head in dismay.

Fried Bread gets raw meat and praise for good performances, and Echohawk considers him an apt pupil.

Next, Echohawk said, "I plan

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Kyle Palmer, who spent much of his 45-year newspaper career as political editor of the Los Angeles Times, is dead of leukemia at the age of 70.

Palmer had received about 100 blood transfusions in recent months. He died Tuesday at his Malibu home.

Palmer joined the old Los Angeles Evening Express at the age of 21 and went to the Times seven years later.

Russia And Some U.S. Allies Refuse To Pay Share Of U.N. Expenses; $114 Million Debt

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — How to snatch the United Nations out of a financial jam has been going through the congressional wringer for months. It's still all wet.

President Kennedy thought he had a compromise worked out with Senate Republicans. It turned out this was with just some Republicans. Others had second thoughts.

The United Nations charges its members regular dues but adds special assessments when it runs into extra expense as it did in putting troops into the Middle East to keep peace or into the Congo to restore peace.

Various countries — Russia, the Arab states, France, Belgium, Portugal—refused to pay the assessments because, for different reasons, these particular U.N. operations ran counter to their interests.

$114 MILLION DEBT

This put the United Nations in a hole. At the end of 1961 its deficit was $114 million. By next June it was expected to be $170 million. To get out it decided to sell $200 million in bonds, repayable in 25 years at 2 per cent interest.

President Kennedy thought the United States should buy half these bonds, or $100 million worth. He said so last January. Opposition started at once, not only from Republicans but from some Democrats, too.

There was anger at the thought that in a world organization of 104 members the United States should feel it ought to buy half the $200-million bond issue.

ANGRY AT NATIONS

There was so much anger at the nations—some of them American allies, like France, Belgium, Portugal—who refused to pay their assessment that Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield referred to them as "deadbeats."

When Kennedy suggested this country buy $100 million of U.N. bonds, to be paid off in 25 years at 2 per cent, he got hit with a variety of proposals from senators who wanted to give more restrained help.

Sen. George Aiken, Vermont Republican and no enemy of the United Nations, has been the most persistent for more restraint. He's been consistently seconded by Sen. Bourke Hickenlooper, R-Iowa. Aiken and Hickenlooper thought up this one: Let the United States buy the $100 million in bonds for three years at about 3 per cent instead of Kennedy's willingness to buy $100 million for 25 years at 2 per cent.

All this went around and around for weeks. Finally, a compromise was worked out with Aiken and other Republicans. This week Mansfield and his opposite number, Republican Senate Leader Everett Dirksen, offered the Senate a plan. The President would have the choice of buying bonds, or lending the United Nations money up to $25 million as a starter, plus another $75 million if other countries bought at least $75 million worth. They have already pledged themselves for $50 million worth.

The President could set the interest rate at 2 per cent, if he wished, and make the deal for 25 years. But this wasn't spelled out in the Mansfield-Dirksen proposal to the Senate.

But Tuesday Republican senators had a conference and some of them didn't seem to like the compromise plan agreed to by Dirksen and Aiken. Hickenlooper, for instance, hemmed and hawed and said he wasn't in on the compromise. So it's still battling around.

BOB KENNEDY GIVEN AWARD

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy says this nation's progress in civil rights can overcome foreign criticism of discrimination in the United States if the story is told.

"The mere fact that I have to come up here in 1962, 100 years after the Civil War, to explain our progress, is a reflection on all of us in America," Kennedy told an audience of some 1,100 persons Tuesday night.

The president's brother spoke at the annual membership meeting of the Fellowship Commission which gave him a national fellowship award.

"But we have great assets on our side," said Kennedy. "We have truth. We can admit that we have problems, but we can also say we are solving them."

"This is what is really the United States. This is the charter of the United States. This is what we can go out and sell in the world."

COPTER FALLS IN S. VIET NAM

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A U.S. Army helicopter crashed in an operation Monday about 300 miles north of Saigon, but no one was injured, military sources said Wednesday.

The helicopter was from the 93rd Helicopter Co. based at Da Nang, the sources said. The crash reportedly resulted after the engine failed at low altitude about three miles from its objective.

The helicopter apparently had been participating in a week-long operation launched last week to help peasants in the valleys of Quang Ngai Province harvest their rice crop without interference from Communist guerrillas. Gen. Paul D. Harkins, commander of U.S. forces in South Viet Nam, said the operation had been a success.

The 93rd Helicopter Co. is one of three now stationed in South Viet Nam to ferry Vietnamese troops into battle. It was assigned here several months ago from Ft. Devens, Mass.

NFL Schedules 98 Games For '62

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Football League has put together a 14-week, 98-game schedule that includes among its innovation a "round-robin" between the perennial leaders of the East during the first three weeks of the season.

The main departure from tradition sends the New York Giants, defending Eastern champions, into Cleveland for a battle with the Browns opening day. The Giants then move into Philadelphia, then the following week the Eagles and Browns clash at Philadelphia to conclude the showdown series.

Play under the schedule starts Sept. 16 and ends Dec. 16. The Temple of Koyong is overshadowed by an 85-foot ginkgo tree with a 28-foot girth.

The San Blas Indians of Panama rival the most puritanical of Victorians. Parents are so anxious to shelter their children from the facts of life that expectant dogs are kept out of sight.

PERON BACKER FILES DEMANDS IN ARGENTINA

By ROBERT BERRÉLÉZ
BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Peronist leader Andres Framini has demanded "absolute and unconditional" recognition of the Peronists' sweeping victories in the March 18 elections.

In his first public statement since Argentina's military command ousted President Arturo Frondizi and replaced him with Senate President Jose Maria Guido, Framini said the Peronists were "willing to participate in the national reconstruction, but not to give legitimacy through our support to an unjust, illegal and anti-national regime."

Framini, a trade union leader whose victory in the race for governor of Buenos Aires Province was swept away by government decree, said that if the Peronist victories are recognized, the Peronists offer as a contribution to national peace their "irrevocable decision to forget the harm and persecutions suffered in the recent crisis."

DEMANDS AMNESTY

He also called for the liberation of all political prisoners, amnesty for all exiled Argentines—presumably including ex-dictator Juan Peron, a new economic program to replace Frondizi's austerity and a review of all obligations considered harmful to Argentine sovereignty.

He did not elaborate on the last point but nationalist circles contend agreements with the United States and U.S. business are unfavorable to the expansion of local industry.

The military ousted Peron in 1955 and barred his party from organized political activity.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

YOUTH TO GET MENTAL TESTS

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A 14-year-old boy, charged with the pistol slaying of his parents, will undergo a month of tests to evaluate his mental condition.

A hearing for the boy, William Joanni, was continued for a month Tuesday after he collapsed on the courtroom floor and cried out "Oh my God. God help me."

Judge J. Sidney Hoffman, who continued the brief hearing, directed that the boy undergo a month of evaluation by a panel of psychiatrists.

William was taken into custody Monday after he went to the rectory of a Roman Catholic Church and told the Rev. Henry Nawn he had shot his father, Stephen, 50, and his mother, Elizabeth, 53, as they slept.

Police, summoned by Father Nawn, found them dead in their beds.

At Tuesday's hearing Asst. Dist. Atty. Lisa Richette said she thought the boy had suicidal tendencies.

Former Reporter Dies In Pottsville

POTTSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Herbert C. Noakes, a former newspaper reporter and long time leader in Schuylkill County Republican politics, is dead at 67.

Noakes died Tuesday at Pottsville Hospital after a long illness.

A former reporter for the Mahanoy City Record-American, Noakes was chairman of the city GOP and assistant county party leader at the time of his death.

He was also prothonotary for 12 years, first being elected in 1944, and a former president of Mahanoy City Borough Council.

His widow and a daughter survive.

In the next decade, five industrial cities will rise in the Negev, the sandswept southern wedge of Israel.

BARKING DOG REVEALS FIVE PEN FUGITIVES

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP)—"With a little bit of luck," and "If we hadn't been trapped" were some musings of five San Quentin convicts on their way from 29 hours of freedom to 29 days in solitary.

The quintet fled up a ladder, over the prison wall and down a rope early Monday, planning, they said, to steal a car and drive far away.

They were back in custody today because a dog named Duke barked and his mistress had sharp eyes.

"Duke deserves all the credit," said Dorothy Worley, a Santa Venetia housewife. Duke spotted the five fugitives when, cold and hungry, they stopped to sleep early Tuesday on a hillside behind her home, less than 10 miles from San Quentin.

WEEKLY SURRENDER

Mrs. Worley spotted three of the escapees. A quick call to the sheriff, a speedy response, and the five meekly surrendered.

James Dubois, 29, insisted he would have fought guards if he hadn't been trapped.

John L. Rucker, 31, said he was convinced that "with a little bit of luck, we'd have made it." Then he admitted that if Mrs. Worley hadn't spotted them "it would have been someone else."

Kenneth E. Adams, 32, said he could have made it. The other es-

Receives $9,300 For Fish Kills

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Fishs Commission reported that it has received $9,300 in damage payments for a number of big fish kills along the Delaware River and Bowman's Run.

Albert M. Day, executive director of the commission, said the Bethlehem Steel Co. paid $7,600 for three or four fish kills in the Delaware River.

The rest of the $9,300 total—$1,700—came from Armour and Co. for a fish kill along Bowman's Run, Day added.

He said Bowman's Run has been restocked with trout on assurances from Armour that the toxic acids which caused the fish kill have been eradicated.

Meanwhile, the commission and State Health Department are continuing their investigation into the death of some 2,000 trout last month in the Quittapahilla Creek between Annville and Valley Glen Park in Lebanon County.

The kill was caused by cyanide gas, according to B. F. Barnhart, fish warden for Dauphin and Lebanon County. However, investigators have yet to trace the source of the poisoning.

Seven flags have flown over St. Croix in the Virgin Islands—Hol- land, England, Spain, France, the Knights of Malta, Denmark and the United States.

capoes were J. F. Spatoia, 31, and G. C. Roark, 27.

They face escape charges which could add one-year-to-life sentences to their present terms for crimes ranging from drunken driving to robbery.

WALKER TELLS GROUP HE WAS A SCAPEGOAT

WASHINGTON (AP)—Edwin A. Walker, former Army major general, told investigating senators Wednesday he "was a scapegoat of an unwritten policy of collaboration and collusion with the international Communist conspiracy."

The Army veteran lashed out at all officials, from the President down, in an appearance before a special Senate investigation into charges that anti-Communist activities of military leaders have been muzzled.

"With this nation's survival at stake, our armed forces are paralyzed by our national policy of 'no win' and retreat from victory," Walker said.

"NO WIN POLICY"

"I, myself, am a victim of this 'no win' policy. I was charged with nothing. I have been found guilty of nothing. I have been punished for nothing."

Walker was relieved of command of the 24th Army Division in Germany last year and admonished after his troop indoctrination program came into controversy.

The Army found he had made derogatory statements about prominent Americans, including former President Harry S. Truman and Eleanor Roosevelt, widow of President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Walker subsequently resigned from the Army and refused retire-

HAWAII ASKS FOR U.S. RELIEF

HONOLULU (AP)—Gov. William F. Quinn declared Hawaii in a state of food emergency Tuesday night and called on President Kennedy to authorize military transportation for relief.

Quinn also pleaded with both sides of the West Coast shipping strike to agree to unloading of eight strikebound ships in Honolulu harbor.

The Matson freighters are laden with more than 30,000 tons of food and other items for strike-strapped business on all the islands.

In his fourth appeal to President Kennedy since the strike began March 16, Quinn said there is two weeks or less supply of 20 staple foods.

Quinn said the state of emergency was declared because many businesses have nearly exhausted their food supplies.

ment pay. He is now living in Texas and is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor of that state.

Walker read slowly from a 32-page prepared statement which disputed most charges against him and lashed out at his critics.

"The result of what happened to me is that there is today no effective program of psychological warfare training in the United States armed services," Walker said.

"The traditional civilian control of the military has been perverted and extended into a commissar-like training in the United States armed services."

"Finally, our will to resist communism is fast being sapped."

"50¢ a tablet can be cheap!"

No one likes to pay 50¢ for a single tablet—including us. Nevertheless, some of the newer drugs cost that much. They seem expensive—yes, only seem. Consider this: Pneumonia used to mean 4 to 6 bedridden weeks. Loss of pay. Often hospitalization. Often death. Now, a few dollars' worth of one antibiotic will generally cure pneumonia in days. And this is only one example... there are many others. When you consider what a few 50c pills will do for you, they seem downright cheap.

Russia's Kiev Is Setting Standards For Communists

By REINHOLD ENSZ
KIEV (AP) — Premier Khrushchev often boasts about plans for catching up with the United States, but first his country will have to catch up with Kiev.

Kiev is the capital of the Soviet Union's breadbasket, the Ukraine, and in Kiev many standards seem to be a little higher than elsewhere in the Soviet Union.

Western diplomats and newsmen are always pleasantly surprised when they visit Kiev after long sojourns in Moscow.

Moscow is afflicted with vast expanses of tumbledown houses and log cabins. In Kiev, there are no log cabins and most of the buildings have a substantial air about them. The outskirts of Kiev are dotted with tiny stucco cottages and each of them is painted.

There are two reasons for Kiev's better appearance: much of Kiev's old housing was destroyed during the war; and secondly, the Ukrainians seem to take more pride in making their capital neat and presentable.

NO 'TILE CATCHERS'

The architecture of the new buildings in Kiev is similar to that of Moscow — drollish-looking buildings plastered with bathroom-like tiles. But there is a significant difference in the way the buildings are constructed. In Moscow, many of the postwar buildings have wire netting stretched around them at the second story level, to prevent pedestrians from being knocked down by falling tiles. In Kiev, I did not see a single "tile catcher," and I did not see a building that needed one.

In Kiev, it is nothing unusual to see people smiling and laughing. Waiters and waitresses in Kiev are more friendly than in Moscow, but they are plagued with the same problems as their counterparts in Moscow — food shortages. For example, one morning recently, the waitress in one of Kiev's leading hotels refused to accept an order for an omelet, apparently because of the Soviet Union's chronic shortage of eggs.

EGGS ARE SCARCE

"Then I'll have nothing except tea and bread," I told her. But half an hour later, without explanation, she proudly brought a very good omelet.

An East German journalist who saw the omelet immediately demanded one too. At first she discouraged him, but gave in when he became angry and repeatedly pointed at my table.

As for the Ukrainians in the dining room, they were breakfasting — at 8 a.m. — on piles of white rice and fried meat, washed down with glass after glass of thick yogurt.

LUMPY MATTRESSES

The accommodations in the hotel, such as beds, bathrooms, etc., were as dreary as elsewhere in the Soviet Union. The mattress was lumpy, the hot water spout in the wash basin didn't work and the toilet was liberally supplied with old newspapers, neatly cut into squares.

The Soviet Union's long-standing paper shortage was also reflected in the dining room, where the napkins were cut into quarters.

In Kiev, incidentally, hotels are called "hotels," instead of "gostinitsas" as in Moscow. The "g" in hotel stems from the fact that the Ukrainian and Russian languages lack the equivalent of "h."

Although waitresses in Kiev are generally cheerful, the service they give is about like that in Moscow — slow. Even a glass of tea requires something like 30 minutes. And because of the fruit shortage there were no lemon slices to go with it.

PEOPLE BETTER DRESSED

Pedestrians in Kiev are better dressed than in 1958 when I visited the city as a tourist. At that time, I was accosted several times by furtive men who offered to buy everything I was wearing. This time, I didn't get a single offer.

The only furtive approach was from a short, middle-aged man who appeared to have some Arab blood in him. He desperately wanted me to smuggle out a letter to President Nasser of Egypt.

Since I had just left a courtroom where two West German tourists were sentenced for espionage, I was in no mood to be caught violating Soviet postal regulations. I turned him down and walked away.

And in Kiev, one does do a lot of walking. The taxi and bus situation is just as bad as in Moscow.

But Kiev definitely leads Moscow in the matter of shop window displays. In Moscow, many window decorators figure that a pyramid of tin cans, or a couple of bolts of cloth, is enough. In Kiev, more imagination is shown and some of the displays are nearly as good as those in Poland or East Germany.

DE GAULLE VISITS ITALY

TURIN, Italy (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle of France arrived for a one-day meeting with Italian Premier Amintore Fanfani.

The two leaders were expected to concentrate on European unity questions during their brief meeting. French officials hinted that De Gaulle wanted to press his ideas for a political confederation of the six Common Market nations—France, Italy, West Germany, Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg.

BIRDIE WAS ITCHY

TEMPLE TERRACE, Fla. (AP) — "There was nothing to do in the front office; the president (Joseph) Cairnes did all the work," said George (Birdie) Tebbetts. "That's why I came back to manage."

A few years ago Tebbetts said he would never manage again when he quit Cincinnati to become executive vice president of the Milwaukee Braves. Last October he signed to manage the Braves through 1963.

WOMAN CRIES LEAVING PEN

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Connie Nicholas, slightly heavier but still attractive, broke into tears Wednesday leaving the Indiana Women's Prison, a free woman after serving two years for killing her wealthy lover of 15 years.

Mrs. Nicholas, 47, whose tears were frequent during her trial more than two years ago, walked by herself to the administration building, entered, signed her name and was released.

She walked from the building, keeping her head down all the time, and got into a waiting car with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Blankenship, of nearby New Whiteland, Ind.

Mrs. Nicholas served the minimum term for the fatal shooting of Forrest Teel, 54, a vice president of the Eli Lilly & Co., pharmaceutical firm. She said Teel spurned her for a younger woman after a 15-year love affair.

Mrs. Nicholas' release was approved by the State Parole Board. She was sentenced to 2-21 years after an all-male jury convicted her.

Teel, a married man, was shot to death in his car in July 1958.

WELL ROOTED

ROANOKE, Va. (AP) — When Charles Chitlum pulled up roots and left Virginia he neglected some of them — sassafras roots. Now 77, Chitlum addressed a letter to the "Best Banker" at Roanoke and asked that some sassafras roots be sent to him at Omaha, Neb. He got the roots for the tea he said he needed as a spring tonic.

BURTON SAYS HE LOVES WIFE

LONDON (AP) — Actor Richard Burton cabled his wife Wednesday assuring her that he still loves her despite his headlined kisses with Elizabeth Taylor.

Friends said the cable was in Welsh to keep the message from prying eyes.

It said: "Love to all. Everything fine."

He followed up the cable with a telephone call. The result was that Burton's blonde wife, Sybil, 32, was much happier today, friends said.

Actor-playwright Emlyn Williams, long-time friend of the Burtons and godfather to one of their two children, said he was convinced that everything was fine between Burton and his wife.

Williams emphatically denied reports in two London papers that Mrs. Burton was planning to fly to Rome to join her husband, who has been reported kissing Liz on and off the set of the movie "Cleopatra."

An attorney in New York announced Monday that Miss Taylor and singer Eddie Fisher, her fourth husband, had agreed to part and would seek a divorce.

JURIST CUTS SLOWDOWN IN INTEGRATION

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—U.S. Dist. Judge J. Skelly Wright has thrown out an integration slowdown law and ordered desegregation of the first six grades of all New Orleans public schools next fall.

The sweeping order Tuesday brought from a Louisiana legislative leader promises of drastic action next month. Members of the Orleans Parish Board said they would appeal.

Taken desegregation is now in effect in six scattered elementary schools in the city.

Wright's ruling came a week after Archbishop Joseph Francis Rummel ordered desegregation of all Catholic parochial and private schools next fall and in the midst of a furor over excommunication threats against some leading Catholic segregationists.

BALKS LAST ACTION

In addition to speeding up desegregation, Wright's order declared the application of Louisiana's pupil placement law in New Orleans unconstitutional. He did not rule on its application in the rest of the state. Every Louisiana city operates a segregated school system.

This knocked out one of the last rear-guard actions by the Louisiana Legislature. State Sen. E. W. Gravolet said legislators may have an answer and promised drastic action, but he didn't say what that would be.

Theodore H. Shepard Jr., president of the Orleans Parish School Board, said he "almost definitely" will call a special meeting Friday to authorize an appeal.

Wright, 49, a native New Orleansian and a federal judge for 11 years, issued the original order desegregating the city's public schools. When the order was implemented on Nov. 14, 1960, white parents withdrew their children almost en masse from the two elementary schools which accepted Negro first graders.

Gov. Jimmie H. Davis took control of the city's schools in an attempt to head off desegregation, but the action was nullified by a panel of federal judges.

Last fall the number of integrated schools in the city increased to six with only 12 Negro children attending previously all-white classes.

Man Arrested In Car Buying Scheme

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—State police have charged a New Holland R. 2 man with operating a car buying scheme which they said cheated two finance firms of more than $77,000.

Clarence P. Cooper, 33, a former justice of the peace in New Holland, was ordered held under bail for a further hearing April 24 following his arrest Tuesday night.

State police said the firms cheated were the Approved Finance Agency, West Chester, which allegedly paid $41,058, and the Henry Martin Insurance Agency, which allegedly paid $36,725.

Senior Class In "Good Standing"

CHESTER, Pa. (AP)—The senior class at the Pennsylvania Military College was back in "good standing" today, following its formal apology for what was reportedly an April fool prank.

The school administration reported Tuesday night it had accepted the apology of the whole class for an incident Sunday which involved the stacking of railroad ties before the administration building.

The school had restricted the class to campus when individual members failed to assume responsibility. The restriction was followed Tuesday by a silent demonstration in which some upper classmen refused to eat during mealtime.

BOYCOTT CUTS FOOD PROGRAM

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—City officials have voted to withdraw Birmingham's support of a county-wide surplus food program following a Negro boycott of downtown stores.

An overwhelming majority of those receiving the surplus food are Negroes.

The three city commissioners voted unanimously Tuesday to withhold the city's share of the $100,000 program. Since seven months of the program have expired, the city's share for the remaining months would amount to about $18,750.

The program is supported by other communities in Jefferson County, which has a population of about 640,000.

Mayor Arthur J. Hanes said, "We've got to do something to nip this boycott in the bud." He said business license fees are governed by business volume and that when business is off, license fees decline. He said the city loses money "and we've got to make it up somewhere."

The boycott began about two weeks ago after Negro leaders demanded that downtown merchants desegregate hiring practices, rest rooms and drinking fountains.

GUESTS AT DINNER

WASHINGTON (AP)—British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and President Kennedy will be guests at a dinner to be given April 27 by the White House Correspondents Association and the White House News Photographers Association.

Macmillan is coming to this country to address the American Newspaper Publishers Association in New York April 26. He is expected to confer with Kennedy here April 28.

PUBLIC HEARINGS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Judiciary Committee will hold public hearings a week from Wednesday on the nomination of Byron R. White to the Supreme Court.

Both Democratic and Republican senators have said they expect little or no opposition to White's nomination to succeed Justice Charles E. Whittaker who retired because of ill health.

BRAIN BLOWS CAUSED DEATH OF CHAMPION

NEW YORK (AP)—An autopsy report on Benny "Kid" Paret says he died of brain battering suffered in the Madison Square Garden ring March 24—and there was "no gross evidence of old brain injury."

Before the autopsy, there had been speculation that Paret's knockout last December by Gene Fullmer, the National Boxing Association's middleweight champion, might have contributed to Paret's death.

New York City's chief medical examiner, Dr. Milton Helpern, reported Tuesday that "death was caused by complications of brain injuries sustained as a result of the boxing bout" on March 24.

Helpern performed a 4½-hour autopsy at Bellevue Hospital a few hours after Paret, 25, died in Roosevelt Hospital.

The report described hemorrhages in the brain caused by blows and concussion. It also mentioned the bronchopneumonia that developed the day before Paret died. He had been in a coma since he was carried out of the ring.

Paret, lying helpless in the ropes, was hit on the head 20 times or more by Emile Griffith, who won Paret's world welterweight title when the bout was stopped by referee Ruby Goldstein in the 12th round.

GOP BEATEN IN NEW ORLEANS

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Victor H. Schiro soundly defeated his Republican opponent for a full four-year term as Mayor of New Orleans.

Schiro, 53, has served as interim mayor for eight months.

Schiro, 53, has served as interim mayor for eight months. He was appointed today to a New York State legislative committee to investigate boxing.

His Republican opponent, E. Ross Buckley, 40, tried to capitalize on the segregation issue—which Schiro used in his primary fight—to score an upset in this traditionally Democratic Deep South city.

Schiro polled 81,623 votes in complete returns from the 351 precincts in Tuesday's general election. Buckley got 19,503—nearly four times more than his party's registered strength. Less than half of the 251,000 registered voters balloted.

DeLespess S. Morrison, the one-time boy wonder of Louisiana politics, resigned as mayor last summer to become U.S. ambassador to the Organization of American States.

TO WED AGAIN

LONDON (AP)—Sarah Churchill, twice-wed actress daughter of Britain's former prime minister, has announced her engagement to Baron Audley, London artist and designer.

Lord Audley, 48, a major in the Worcestershire regiment, told reporters at his flat near Mayfair Tuesday that he and Sarah, 47, "will be married quite shortly." He has been married once before
